STATEMENT OF FACTS

15. On October 17, 2013, at approximately 12:00 p.m. plaintiff was unlawfully stopped, questioned, frisked, searched, seized, handcuffed, falsely arrested and falsely imprisoned, maliciously prosecuted, and denied the Fifth Amendment Right to Due Process, without reasonable suspicion, probable cause or legal justification, by the individually named police officer defendants.

16. Specifically, on October 17, 2013, at approximately 12:00 p.m., plaintiff went to his girlfriend's apartment located on the first floor of a two-family home located at 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

17. At October 17, 2013, plaintiff was living with his girlfriend on the first floor of 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

18. On October 17, 2013, plaintiff had permission and authority to be at the premises and had permission and authority to be inside his girlfriend's apartment located on the first floor of 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

19. Upon arrival at 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, plaintiff realized that he forgot his keys and tapped on the window of the first floor to get his girlfriend's attention so she could let him into the apartment.

20. While plaintiff was waiting for his girlfriend to come outside to let him into the apartment, several defendant police officers arrived at the subject location.

21. Upon information and belief, the landlord, who lived on the second floor of 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York called the defendant police officers to come to the subject location.

22. The defendant police officers spoke to the landlord of 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York and, upon information and belief, the landlord told the police officers that he believed plaintiff was attempting to burglarize the subject location.

23. Plaintiff's girlfriend was present at the scene, and explained to the defendant police officers that plaintiff had permission and authority to be inside of her apartment, which was located on the first floor of 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

24. In fact, plaintiff also explained to the defendant police officers that he was living with his girlfriend at that apartment on the date of the subject incident.

25. Further, plaintiff's name and the address of 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York were listed on the cable bill.

26. As such, based upon the information in the possession of the defendant police officers at the time of the subject incident, no reasonable police officer could believe that plaintiff had attempted to commit the crime of burglary at 35 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, New York since it was clear that plaintiff had permission and authority to be present at that location.

27. At no time did plaintiff commit any crime, nor did the defendant police officers have any reason to believe that plaintiff committed any crime.

28. At no point in time did the defendant police officers have legal justification or probable cause to believe plaintiff committed any crime.

29. Nevertheless, plaintiff was unlawfully handcuffed and arrested by the defendant police officers without legal justification or probable cause.

30. Thereafter, plaintiff was transported to the 75th precinct.

31. Upon arrival to the 75th precinct, plaintiff was photographed, fingerprinted, and placed in a holding cell.

32. Thereafter, on or about October 17, 2013, plaintiff was transported to Brooklyn Central Booking.

33. On October 18, 2013, after approximately 24 hours in custody, plaintiff was arraigned in Brooklyn Criminal Court and was released on his own recognizance.

34. Plaintiff was falsely charged with Attempted Burglary.

35. The defendant police officers maliciously initiated the prosecution against plaintiff by providing the DA's Office with false, misleading, and incomplete information regarding the facts that formed the officers' basis for arresting plaintiff.

36. After the defendant police officers falsely arrested plaintiff, on October 17, 2013, they charged plaintiff with crimes they had no basis to allege he committed and maliciously prosecuted him.

37. The criminal prosecution of plaintiff was maliciously initiated without probable cause by New York City Police Officers, on October 17, 2013, when the police officers forwarded false, misleading, and/or incomplete information and/or evidence to the Brooklyn District Attorney's Office as an explanation for why they allegedly had probable cause to arrest and prosecute plaintiff.

38. At no time did the police officers have any legal justification or probable cause to believe plaintiff had committed any crime.

39. Further, the defendant police officers signed and executed a criminal court complaint that contained false, misleading and incomplete information and/or evidence under oath and under the risk of a penalty of perjury.

40. As a result of the false charges initiated by the defendant police officers, plaintiff was forced to appear in Court on approximately 6 occasions before all charges were dismissed on April 25, 2014.

41. As a result of the malicious prosecution against plaintiff, plaintiff experienced pain and suffering, fear, an invasion of privacy, psychological pain, emotional distress, mental anguish, embarrassment, and humiliation.

42. At no time did the officers have probable cause or any legal justification to allege plaintiff committed a crime, nor did they possess any objective facts to indicate plaintiff committed a crime.

43. Some of the individually named police officer defendants observed the violation of plaintiff's rights under the Constitution of the United States and New York State Law and did nothing to prevent the unjustifiable stop, question, frisk, search, false arrest, false imprisonment, malicious prosecution, denial of a fair trial, and use of excessive force against plaintiff.

44. The unlawful stop, question, frisk, search, false arrest, false imprisonment, malicious prosecution, and denial of the right to due process by the individually named defendants caused plaintiff to sustain serious psychological and emotional trauma, including post-traumatic stress disorder.
