On May 6, 2018, at approximately 6:00 a.m., plaintiff Daniel Sanchez, while lawfully inside the 183rd Street MTA Subway Station, Bronx, New York, was subject to an unlawful stop, question, frisk, search, false arrest, and false imprisonment by the defendant New York City police officers. In addition, Plaintiff was subjected to an assault, battery, and use of excessive force by the defendant officers when the defendant police officer forcibly grabbed Plaintiff and smashed his head into the ground, causing him to suffer physical injuries, and an asthma attack. Plaintiff was then unlawfully imprisoned at the Transit District 11 NYPD Police Station and Bronx Central Booking for approximately 20 hours until plaintiff was arraigned in Criminal Court, charged with crimes he did not commit, and released on his own recognizance. Plaintiff was denied the right to due process and a fair trial until the resisting arrest charges against plaintiff were dismissed on July 11, 2019. As a result of this incident, Plaintiff was also hospitalized at a mental health facility for approximately two months.
