Initial Complaint Narrative

The following narrative was obtained on March 14, 2019 during an follow-up intake call with [REDACTED] On March 12, 2019, at approximately 9:00 p m., somewhere between [REDACTED] in Brooklyn NY, [REDACTED] (driver) and [REDACTED] (passenger) were pulled over by three unmarked police vehicles. One police vehicle was blue or black with license # [REDACTED], another vehicle was a blue Ford Taurus with license # [REDACTED]. The officers (unknown how many exactly) approached [REDACTED] and asked for his vehicular paperwork, which he provided. They immediately opened the car doors, and asked [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] to step out and stand at the back of the vehicle. The officers ran the license plate and told [REDACTED] that the vehicle was reported stolen in Tennessee, which wasn't true. They also accused him of driving with an expired inspection sticker. The officers then started searching the vehicle, lifting the back seat to look under it, looking inside the glove compartment, and making a mess in the car [REDACTED] arrived at the scene, but stayed across the street, in order not to interfere with the police activity. He then witnessed the officers searching [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] going inside their pockets, and frisking them. The officers told them it was to make sure they weren't carrying any weapons. Once the search was done, the officers informed [REDACTED] that they called a deputy in Tennessee, who in turn confirmed that the car wasn't stolen. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were released without any summons or arrest. On March 13, 2019, between 12:00 p.m. and 1:00 p m., [REDACTED] called the desk Sergeant at the 73rd Precinct (Tel # [REDACTED]) to find out why the officers stopped his son and nephew, then let them go without issuing a summons for the expired registration as they claimed. [REDACTED] spoke to the desk Sergeant again on March 14, 2019, at approximately 11:30 am. On both occasions, the desk Sergeant informed [REDACTED] that the officers' actions were recorded on BWC. He also told [REDACTED] that the officers weren't mandated to provide their business cards because they were part of the Anti Crime Unit, which [REDACTED] believes isn't true.
