

FIRST ENDORSEMENT

Executive Director Jonathan Darche, Civilian Complaint Review Board to Deputy Commissioner Amy Litwin, Department Advocate's Office, February 10, 2023. Contents noted. Recommend approval of the negotiated plea agreements in DADS No. 2022-24757 and 2022-24729 against Police Officer John Migliaccio, Tax Registry No. 964169. Both cases were conferenced on October 6, 2022, before Assistant Deputy Commissioner of Trials Jeff Adler, who accepted both guilty pleas and approved the negotiated penalty of the forfeiture of fifteen (15) vacation days for DADS No. 2022-24757 and the forfeiture of forty (40) vacation days for DADS No. 2022-24729, for a total penalty of the forfeiture of fifty-five (55) vacation days.

Assistant Deputy Commissioner of Trials Jeff Adler requested a re-conference regarding DADS No. 2022-24729. The case was re-conferenced on October 25, 2022. For DADS No. 2022-24729, Assistant Deputy Commissioner of Trials Jeff Adler re-accepted the guilty plea but rejected the negotiated penalty of the forfeiture of forty (40) vacation days. ADCT Adler recommended the forfeiture of twenty (20) vacation days for DADS No. 2022-24729. This penalty would run consecutive with DADS No. 2022-24757 for a total recommended penalty of the forfeiture of thirty-five (35) vacation days.

FOURTH ENDORSEMENT

COMMANDING OFFICER, POLICE COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE to First Deputy Commissioner, October 9, 2023. Please note the Police Commissioner's DISAPPROVAL of the Third Endorsement and First Endorsement regarding Disciplinary Case Nos. 2022-24757 and 2022-24729 against Police Officer John Migliaccio, Tax No. 964169.

The Police Commissioner has reviewed the Civilian Complaint Review Board's (CCRB) recommended penalties regarding the substantiated allegations against Police Officer John Migliaccio and determined that the actions of Police Officer Migliaccio do not warrant the imposition of the proposed penalties.

In Disciplinary Case No. 2022-24757, Police Officer Migliaccio is charged with damaging an individual's vehicle and using his baton without police necessity. Video footage captures a volatile, chaotic, and fluid scene. Police Officer Migliaccio stated he climbed on top of the vehicle when he saw an officer fall and get dragged into the crowd. He stated he did this to gain a better vantage point to see if the police officer was injured. While on top of the vehicle, Police Officer Migliaccio was surrounded by protestors and admitted to swinging his baton at the hands of protestors so that they could not grab his ankles. Once the other officer was safe and secured, Police Officer Migliaccio stated he got off the car. According to CCRB, none of the civilians interviewed by CCRB identified Police Officer Migliaccio as making physical contact with them. Rather, they merely referenced "officers." CCRB did not provide any context for where in the timeline of events this video occurred, specifically, what was occurring right before it. Therefore, the conclusion that the use of the baton was improper is tenuous. CCRB determined in their investigation that the group of protestors were peaceful. However, the members of the service interviewed described a chaotic and violent scene where various objects and liquids were being thrown at the officers.

With respect to the allegation that he damaged the vehicle, the Police Commissioner believes there is no evidence of Police Officer Migliaccio's action of getting on top of the vehicle caused any damage to the vehicle's windshield. Given the number of civilians in the area and what was occurring at the moment, the link between Police Officer Migliaccio getting on top of the vehicle, and the damage to the vehicle is weak. Furthermore, from the interviews conducted, CCRB noted that Police Officer Malik McCloud, who has since retired, stated that "as he was getting off the car part of the middle of the front windshield broke." Even if we believe Police Officer Migliaccio damaged the vehicle, disciplinary action is not appropriate. If Police Officer Migliaccio damaged the vehicle, it was not intentional or with malice. This was a chaotic scene, where he went on top of the vehicle in an attempt to help another member of the service. As such, no disciplinary action will be taken for this allegation.

FIRST DEPUTY COMM.
REC'D OCT 10 2023 16:51

In Disciplinary Case No. 2022-24729, the Police Commissioner agrees that the use of pepper spray was improper. However, the Police Commissioner has determined that CCRB's application of the Department Disciplinary guidelines is improper. Police Officer Migliaccio's use of pepper spray was one fluid action, and should be analyzed as one event.

Therefore, the Police Commissioner directs that the Charges and Specifications in both matters against Police Officer Migliaccio be dismissed and issue a Schedule "B" Command Discipline with the forfeiture of ten (10) vacation days for the improper use of pepper spray. Additionally, Police Officer Migliaccio will receive no disciplinary action for the allegations that he damaged an individual's vehicle and wrongfully used force against individuals with a baton.

The Commanding Officer, Department Advocate shall ensure that a copy of the fully adjudicated Command Discipline is forwarded to this office expeditiously.

Forwarded for your necessary attention.
