FACTUAL CHARGES

17. On, or about, March 30, 2019, at approximately 9:00 p.m., in the vicinity of 951 Hoe Avenue, within the County of Bronx, City and State of New York, Plaintiff was falsely arrested, falsely imprisoned and illegally searched and seized in violation of her constitutional rights to be free from illegal search and seizure by officers who were employees of the New York City police officers.

18. On March 30th 2019 Plaintiff (Ms. Noheme Perez) dialed 911 because of an ongoing dispute between her and her neighbor from down the hall Ms. Destiny Vergara, herein referred to as Ms. Vergara. Officers arrived and proceeded to the second floor of the building, directly in front of Plaintiff's apartment door. Officers question Plaintiff before questioning Ms. Vergara. After the police officers questioned Ms. Vergara down the hall, they reverted back to the Plaintiff. Ms. Vergara had expressed to the officers that she was the victim who had been attacked. Officers informed Plaintiff that in the event of a cross-complaint both parties had to be arrested. Plaintiff explained to the officers that Ms. Vergara was lying. Plaintiff suggested that the officers review the building's surveillance cameras. Officers refused to do so. Plaintiff also informed the officers that she had already filed a previous complaint against Ms. Vergara the day before. Officers told the Plaintiff that there were no complaints in the system. Moments later, the officers left the area in which the altercation occurred. The Defendants returned one (1) hour later. Officers explained to the Plaintiff that Ms. Vergara came into the precinct to file a complaint against her. At that time, due to the complaint filed by the Plaintiff from the previous incident, Ms. Vergara was arrested. Officers instructed Plaintiff to take her dogs and put them back in the apartment so that they can explain the paper work involving Ms. Vergara's arrest. As Plaintiff re-exits her apartment, the officers placed handcuffs on her and inform her that she was under arrest.

19. Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO, physically restrained and removed Plaintiff by rear handcuffing her in an excessively tight fashion, which resulted substantial pain and physical discomfort to Plaintiff's wrists.

20. Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO, then forcibly removed Plaintiff to the 41st precinct by grabbing her person and shoving her into a police transport vehicle.

21. Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO, and John/Jane Does 1 through 10, then proceeded to criminally process Plaintiff, which included fingerprinting, retina scans and various invasive bodily searches.

22. Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO, and John/Jane Does 1 through 10, then subjected Plaintiff to illegal interrogation tactics by threatening her with a protracted criminal prosecution followed by a lengthy imprisonment, if she did not comply with Defendants' demands by agreeing to testify and provide false evidence against the Defendants' true target and suspect.

23. After Plaintiff's arraignment, she was compelled to return to court multiple times to contest egregiously false criminal charges alleged against her by Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO.

24. Plaintiff was eventually vindicated on May 16th, 2019, when the Bronx County District Attorney's Office decided to terminate the criminal proceedings in Plaintiff's favor by moving the court for the unconditional dismissal of all criminal charges that was pending against Plaintiff.

25. Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO, and John/Jane Does 1 through 10, arrested and attempted cause a criminal prosecution to be initiated against Plaintiff, because of his desires to use Plaintiff's arrest and criminal prosecution as leverage against his true target, to incur additional overtime compensation, benefits and career favor from the superior officers, to avoid adverse consequences associated with failing to meet NYPD departmental arrest quotas and also to conceal his egregious violations of proper police procedures and gross misconduct, including his fabrications of non-existent observations, evidence and information.

26. Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO and John/Jane Does 1 through 10, engaged in a conspiracy to falsely arrest and maliciously prosecute Plaintiff, regarding the fabrication of the aforementioned non-existent evidence and observations, as well the manner and means by which said fabrications would be forwarded to the District Attorney's Office.

27. Plaintiff asserts that the Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO and John/Jane Does 1 through 10, violated Plaintiff's civil rights, and are part of a larger pattern and practice of similar misconduct, which is so widespread, pervasive and consistent throughout the NYPD and the City of New York that the commission such constitutionally violative behavior has become tantamount to an official policy or custom within the NYPD and City of New York or, at the very least, conclusive evidence that the City and the NYPD have either tacitly approved of such egregious wrongdoings or that they have become deliberately indifferent to the civil rights of those who may come into contact with their police officers.

28. The individually named Defendants herein, as well as other officers serving in the employ of the NYPD and City of New York, have blatantly, shamelessly, consistently and repeatedly engaged in conduct violative of the civil rights guaranteed and protected by Constitution of the United States, in addition to the laws and Constitution of the State of New York, all without incurring any ramifications for such misconduct and, ostensibly, with the full and complete blessing of the NYPD, the City of New York and their respective policymakers and supervisors.

29. The New York Times, as well as numerous other reputable journalistic enterprises, have reported on the widespread corruption within the NYPD and City of New York, particularly the incredibly disconcerting proclivity of many NYPD officers to lie about subject matters that are materially relevant to criminal prosecutions, including the complete fabrication of arrest evidence and witnesses. Also detailed, is the NYPD's obstinate refusal to effectuate corrective or preventive measures to combat the inevitable recurrence of such misdeeds, and perhaps most troubling, the NYPD's alarming tendency to, instead, reward and promote these officers, including those who were inculcated via some incontrovertible form of evidence.

30. On March 18, 2018, The New York Times published an explosive article, entitled "Promotions, Not Punishments for Officers Accused of Lying," written by Joseph Goldstein. Mr. Goldstein shines a light on the multitude of flaws within the CCRB and the NYPD, highlighting the fact that the substantiation of a claim against an officer will invariably rely on the presence of incontrovertible proof against the officer. Due to the rarity availability of this type of evidence, an alarmingly small percentage of officer misconduct claims are substantiated. The CCRB is further handicapped by a terribly designed system that requires evidence of a virtually indisputable nature to substantiate any claim against an officer. The article also details the NYPD's persistent reluctance to investigate or discipline officers who lie and even posits that this reluctance is a significant cause of the lying pandemic within the NYPD. The article references various officers and detectives who were the subject of credible accusations relating to the officers' intentionally false statements, with some allegations coming from federal and state judges.

31. On September 12, 2019, The New York Times published another article by Joseph Goldstein, entitled "Officers Said They Smelled Pot. The Judge Called Them Liars." Unsurprisingly, this article dealt with the unusually high frequency of officers using the odor of marijuana to excuse a search that conspicuously does not result in the recovery of any marijuana. It should not require an article in The New York Times to call attention to such patently disingenuous tactics, but has become necessary for a variety of reasons, including the NYPD's failure to correct such behavior, the willingness of prosecutors and judges to credit the lying officers and the increasing rate of occurrence.

32. On April 24, 2019, The New York Times published an article, entitled "Detective's Lies Sent Three People to Prison, Prosecutors Charge," by Sean Piccolo, detailing the lies of NYPD Second Grade Detective Joseph Franco and how those lies resulted in the imprisonment of at least three innocent people. The article described how Det. Franco lied about observing drug transactions on at least three separate occasions, lies that were only uncovered through contradictory video evidence. Det. Franco's lies resulted in the innocent individuals each being sentenced to prison terms in excess of one-year.

33. Other articles include: (i) “Testifying’ by Police: A Stubborn Problem.,” by Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times, March 18, 2018; (ii) “New York Detective Charged with Faking Lineup Results,” by Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times, February 17, 2018; (iii) “He Excelled as a Detective, Until Prosecutors Stopped Believing Him,” by Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times, October 17, 2017; (iv) “Review Board Notes Rise in New York Police Officers’ False Statement,” by J. David Goodman, The New York Times, May 14, 2015; (v) “In Brooklyn Gun Cases, Suspicion Turns to the Police,” by Stephanie Clifford, The New York Times, December 11, 2014; (vi) “Detective is Found Guilty of Planting Drugs,” by Tim Stelloh, The New York Times, November 1, 2011; and (vii) “The Drugs? They Came From the Police,” by Jim Dwyer, The New York Times, October 13, 2011.

34. The NYPD has a longstanding and ignominious record of failing to discipline its officers, or even entertaining allegations of wrongdoing against them. On June 26, 2019, The New York Times published an article, entitled “2,495 Reports of Police Bias. Not One Was Deemed Valid by the N.Y.P.D.” This article reported that within the last five (5) years, almost 2,500 separate individuals have filed formal complaints with the NYPD alleging that an officer acted with bias toward them, with not a single one being substantiated by the NYPD. Such a finding is plainly incredible and obviously the result of deliberately poor or nonexistent investigatory protocols. The report further impugned the NYPD’s commitment to combat the prejudices and the biases exhibited by many of its officers.

35. Upon information and belief, the NYPD, the City of New York, and their respective policymakers, officials or supervisors have imposed, tacitly approved or acquiesced to policies, customs, or patterns and practices within the NYPD that resulted in Plaintiff’s arrest without probable cause.

36. Upon information and belief, the NYPD, the City of New York, and their respective policymakers or supervisors have failed to provide adequate training regarding the identification of probable cause, reasonable suspicion or the appropriate amount of force to be used.

37. Defendants' actions, pursuant to Plaintiff's underlying arrest, which occurred without even the semblance of probable cause, were so blatantly violative of Plaintiff's civil rights that the tacit approval of identical or similar acts by the policymakers or supervisors of the NYPD and the City of New York, as well as their deliberate indifference towards the rights of any individuals who may come into contact with Defendants, should be inferred, because such flagrant deprivations of constitutionally protected rights could not and would not occur without the tacit approval or deliberate indifference regarding the commission of such violations by the policymakers or supervisors of the NYPD and City of New York.

38. Upon information and belief, further details and facts, relating to the unlawful policies, customs or patterns and practices of the NYPD, City of New York and their respective policymakers, supervisors, police officers or employees, will become known after the completion of discovery, as such information is presently within the exclusive possession of Defendants, the NYPD and City of New York.

39. Upon information and belief, the personnel files, records and disciplinary histories of the officer Defendants will reveal a history of Constitutional violations indicative of Defendants City's knowledge that the individual officer Defendants was unfit for employment as NYPD officers, or for employment in general, and that the probability of the individually named Defendants committing similar violations in the future was extremely high.

40. Upon information and belief, said personnel files, records and disciplinary histories will conclusively show that the City and the NYPD were fully aware of defendants' past constitutional violations, the unacceptably high probability for the recurrence of similar transgressions, the unreasonably dangerous situations that were likely to result from their hiring or retention, as well as their unsuitability for employment as law enforcement officers, or for employment in general, and that the NYPD and City of New York failed to engage in any preventive or corrective action intended to diminish the likelihood of recurrence for such violations, which is tantamount to the City's tacit approval of such misconduct or the City's deliberate indifference towards the civil rights of those who may interact with its employees, including Defendant, ANDRES LONDONO.

41. Upon information and belief, the individually named defendants have combined to be named as defendants in numerous lawsuits that have accused them of committing violations similar or identical to those alleged herein, all of which have resulted no disciplinary or corrective action of any kind.

42. Upon information and belief, the NYPD and City of New York and have failed, or outright refused, to correct the individually named Defendants' predilections to engage in unconstitutional behavior or attempt to prevent the recurrence of such misconduct

43. The aforementioned acts of Defendants, including ANDRES LONDONO and John/Jane Does 1 through 10, directly or proximately resulted in the deprivation or violation of Plaintiff's civil rights, as guaranteed and protected by the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as the laws and Constitution of the State of New York.

44. As a direct or proximate result of said acts, Plaintiff was caused to suffer the loss of her liberty, irreparable reputational harm, loss of earnings and potential earnings, physical injury, as well as severe and permanent emotional distress, including fear, embarrassment, humiliation, traumatization, frustration, extreme inconvenience, and anxiety.

143. Defendant City placed Defendants in a position where they could inflict foreseeable harm.

144. Defendant City knew or should have known of its employee Defendants' propensity for violating the individual rights granted under the United States Constitution and the laws of the State of New York, prior to the injuries incurred by Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Municipal "Monell" Liability Under
42 U.S.C. § 1983 Against Defendant City

147. The above paragraphs are here incorporated by reference as though fully set forth.

148. Defendant City maintained a policy or custom that caused Plaintiff to be deprived of her civil rights, tacitly approved of such violative conduct or was deliberately indifferent toward the potential exposure of individuals, such as Plaintiff, to such violative behavior.

149. Defendant City's employee police officers have engaged in an illegal pattern and practice of misconduct, so consistent and widespread that it constitutes a custom or usage, of which a supervisor or policymaker must have been aware of.

150. Defendant City, its policymakers and supervisors failed to provide adequate training or supervision to their subordinates, to such an extent that is tantamount to the City's deliberate indifference toward the rights of those who may come into contact with Defendant City's employees.

151. Defendant City's employees engaged in such egregious and flagrant violations of Plaintiff's Constitutional rights that the need for enhanced training or supervision is obvious and equates to a display of deliberate indifference by Defendant City and its policymakers toward the rights of individuals, who may come into contact with Defendant City's employees.

152. Defendant City's repeated refusal or failure to install or apply corrective or preventive measures constitutes the tacit approval of such violative behavior or a deliberate indifference to the rights of those who may be affected by such behavior.

153. Defendant City's conduct caused the violation of Plaintiff's civil rights enumerated within the Constitution of the United States.

154. As a direct and proximate result of this unlawful conduct, Plaintiff sustained the damages hereinbefore alleged.
