Case Summary

On August 8, 2023, § 87(2)(b) a reporting non-witness, called the Internal Affairs Bureau and filed this complaint on behalf of his mother § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) 14-year-old goddaughter, § 87(2)(b). The complaint was referred to the CCRB, via log no. § 87(2)(b) and was received on August 24, 2023.

On August 8, 2023, at approximately 7:33 a.m., Detective Michael Sinclair, Detective Thomas Bates, and Detective Joseph Mccrain, all from the Warrant Section, went to § 87(2)(b) apartment located at § 87(2)(b) in Queens, in search of her son, § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair entered § 87(2)(b) apartment (Allegation A: Abuse of Authority, Substantiated). Det. Sinclair searched § 87(2)(b) apartment (Allegation B: Abuse of Authority, Substantiated). Det. Sinclair questioned § 87(2)(b) about § 87(2)(b) whereabouts (Allegation C: Abuse of Authority, Within NYPD Guidelines). Det. Sinclair failed to obtain language interpretation services for § 87(2)(b) (Allegation D: Abuse of Authority, Substantiated). Det. Sinclair failed to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card (Allegation E: Abuse of Authority, Unable to Determine). § 87(2)(g), § 87(4-b)

§ 87(2)(b)

No arrest or summons resulted from this incident.

The investigation obtained Body-Worn Camera videos, but only one video was relevant to the incident (BR 01).

Findings and Recommendations

Allegation (A) Abuse of Authority: Detective Michael Sinclair entered § 87(2)(b) in Queens.

Allegation (B) Abuse of Authority: Detective Michael Sinclair searched § 87(2)(b) in Queens.

§ 87(2)(b) stated on August 8, 2023, at approximately 7:33 a.m., § 87(2)(b) was inside her apartment located at § 87(2)(b) in Queens. § 87(2)(b) heard knocks on her apartment door, observed officers, and opened the door partially. § 87(2)(b) remained at the door and held the door with one of her hands. Det. Sinclair told § 87(2)(b) that they were looking for her son. § 87(2)(b) showed § 87(2)(b) a photo of § 87(2)(b) and asked if he lived in the apartment with her. § 87(2)(b) said that she had not had any contact with § 87(2)(b) and that § 87(2)(b) did not live in the apartment any longer and that he had moved to Florida. Det. Sinclair walked into the apartment, passing by § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair looked under the beds and in cabinet drawers. Det. Bates stepped inside the living room area and Det. Mccrain stayed at the door (BR 02).

Det. Sinclair's BWC video captures the entire incident from the moment officers arrive at the location to the moment they exit § 87(2)(b) apartment. At the 3:42 minute mark, § 87(2)(b) opens the door. Det. Sinclair says, "Hi. Good morning. Police Department." § 87(2)(b) replies, "Huh." Det. Sinclair says once more, "Police Department." § 87(2)(b) says, "Huh," and appears confused and sleepy as she scratches her eyes. Det. Sinclair says, "We are here for § 87(2)(b)." § 87(2)(b) replies, "Huh." Det. Sinclair says again, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) says in Spanish, "Do you speak Spanish?" Det. Sinclair says, "No. No Spanish." Det. Sinclair then shows § 87(2)(b) a picture. § 87(2)(b) says, "That's my son." Det. Sinclair replies, "Is he here?" and signals with his right hand towards the apartment. § 87(2)(b) says in Spanish, "Huh. Here?" Det. Sinclair says, "Yeah." § 87(2)(b) says in Spanish, "No. He does not live here." Det. Sinclair replies, "Okay. We have to come in and check." § 87(2)(b) says, "Huh." Det. Sinclair repeats, "We have to come in and check." § 87(2)(b) closes the door and removes the safety chain from the door. At the 4:20 minute mark, § 87(2)(b) opens the door and stands to the side of the door. Det. Sinclair enters the apartment as he extends his right hand to the side, motioning § 87(2)(b) to step to the side. § 87(2)(b) walks into the living room. Det. Bates and Det. Mccrain follow Det. Sinclair inside the apartment. Det. Sinclair, Det. Bates, and Det. Mccrain look around the apartment. BWC does not fully capture where Det. Bates and Det. Mccrain search, but they both go into rooms. At the 5:11 minute mark, § 87(2)(b) tries to ask Det. Sinclair for proof of document for the entry, but it is not clear what she says. Det. Sinclair says, "He had an arrest. He has a warrant." § 87(2)(b) says, "He has a problem." Det. Sinclair replies, "He has a warrant." § 87(2)(b) replies in Spanish, "I don't understand. Why don't you talk to me in Spanish?" Det. Sinclair replies, "No Spanish." Det. Sinclair walks to the second room. At the 05:27 minute mark, Det. Sinclair enters the second room (BR 01).

The investigation did not have Det. Sinclair's BWC video at the time Det. Sinclair was interviewed. Consequently, Det. Sinclair was interviewed a second time to address some inconsistencies in his initial statement.

During his first CCRB interview (BR 03), Det. Sinclair stated that he was assigned § 87(2)(b) case, which resulted from § 87(2)(b) being one of the individuals who was not caught during a sweep. The FBI and the gun violence suppression division were also looking for § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair conducted his investigation by searching for previous arrests paperwork, DAS-lite, TLO searches (which gives you every address the individual ever lived in), and all databases available to the department. After completing his investigation, multiple documents showed that § 87(2)(b) used the incident location as his address multiple times in the past. Det. Sinclair believed that he conferred with a detective from the gun violence suppression division and that their records showed the incident location was associated with § 87(2)(b) and that § 87(2)(b) mother lived at the incident location and that § 87(2)(b) was there in the past. Det. Sinclair did not recall who from the gun violence suppression division he spoke with. Det. Sinclair did not remember any other details regarding that conversation. When asked whether there was any intel in the couple of days leading up to the incident regarding seeing § 87(2)(b) coming in or out of the building of the incident location, Det. Sinclair responded no. When asked whether he knew the most recent instance in which § 87(2)(b) was in the vicinity of the incident location, Det. Sinclair responded that he is assigned many cases and that this case did not stand out in any way. Det. Sinclair stated again that the FBI had also gone to the location in search of § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair believed that this was his second or third time going to the incident location. Det. Sinclair believed that the first time he went to the apartment, there was a male individual present who stated that he was house sitting and that the mother was in the Dominican Republic, "or something like that," which is what brought Det. Sinclair back to the apartment a second time. This occurred approximately a month before this incident.

On the incident date, Det. Sinclair went to the incident location and knocked on the door. § 87(2)(b) opened the door. Det. Sinclair had not interacted with § 87(2)(b) prior to the incident date and did not interact with her during prior visits to the apartment. Det. Sinclair did not recall the conversation that he had with § 87(2)(b) at the door. § 87(2)(b) spoke "very little English," to "no English at all." Det. Sinclair believed that § 87(2)(b) understood what Det. Sinclair was saying to her. The officers mentioned § 87(2)(b) name and asked for him. Det. Sinclair believed that § 87(2)(b) limitedly explained that § 87(2)(b) was her son. Det. Sinclair also showed § 87(2)(b) a photo of § 87(2)(b) did not say anything along the lines of § 87(2)(b) not being present. The officers tried to explain that they had a warrant for § 87(2)(b) allowed the officers inside the apartment by opening the door and stepping back. Det. Sinclair did not believe that § 87(2)(b) said anything when she stepped back. Det. Sinclair entered the apartment first. Det. Bates and Det. McCrain followed Det. Sinclair into the apartment. § 87(2)(b) did not make any attempts to block the officers from entering the apartment. The officers looked on couches and behind couches, under beds, and inside closets to make sure no one was hiding. Det. Sinclair went to the back of the apartment, where there was one room to the right and one room directly in front. Det. Sinclair did not recall which bedroom he entered. Det. Sinclair denied looking into cabinet drawers and added that a person cannot hide in the cabinet drawers.

During his second CCRB interview (BR 04), Det. Sinclair stated that he had an arrest warrant for § 87(2)(b) on the day of the incident. Det. Sinclair did not have the arrest warrant number and did not have access to it at the time of the interview. He added that the arrest warrant number should be on the DD5s. At the 5:57-minute mark, Det. Sinclair's BWC video was played. After reviewing BWC, Det. Sinclair said that he believed § 87(2)(b) understood his command to enter the apartment because she closed the door, opened it, and stepped back. Det. Sinclair did not need verbal consent or any other physical gestures from § 87(2)(b) to enter the apartment because he had an arrest warrant. Det. Sinclair did not need to explain the procedure for an arrest warrant to § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair did not have to explain to § 87(2)(b) that she could refuse consent for entry into her apartment. Due to the arrest warrant, officers could keep trying to enter the apartment and knock the door down.

A document request for search warrants, arrest warrants or bench warrants related to this incident yielded negative results (BR 05 - BR 06). A document request for I-Cards related to this incident yielded five I-Cards associated with § 87(2)(b) and the incident location (BR 06). The most recent I-Card showed § 87(2)(b) past arrest history, indicating that the incident location was the last known residence used for § 87(2)(b) as of April 27, 2023 (four months prior to the incident).

An information request for DD5s related to this incident was denied; according to the Warrant Section, the case pertaining to the DD5s is sealed (BR 07).

New York Criminal Procedure Law §120.80 states that an officer may enter any premises in which he reasonably believes the defendant to be present when executing an arrest warrant, before which he must give notice of his authority and purpose to the occupant thereof. The law further authorizes officers to forcibly enter any premises that they are authorized to enter with an arrest warrant (BR 10).

People v. Cabral, 147 Misc. 2d 1000 (BR 11) states that, when an officer possesses an arrest warrant that contains an address based on information given by a defendant several months earlier, the officer cannot assume that the defendant still lives at that address based solely on that information. Thus, officers must verify that the subject of a warrant resides at a particular location on the day of the warrant's execution. This will be especially true when there is a significant passage of time between the initial arrest and the issuance of the warrant. In addition to verifying the address, the officer will need to conduct a limited inquiry upon which he can base a reasonable belief that the suspect is inside the apartment at the time the officer plans to execute the warrant.

[REDACTED] it is recommended that Allegations A and B be closed as Substantiated.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that Det. Sinclair asked § 87(2)(b) questions regarding § 87(2)(b) whereabouts. § 87(2)(b) does not speak English, so it was hard for her to understand what Det. Sinclair was asking but believed that Det. Sinclair asked if § 87(2)(b) knew § 87(2)(b) since Det. Sinclair showed her a photo of § 87(2)(b) told § 87(2)(b) not to answer Det. Sinclair's questions because she was a minor and had never met § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair then asked § 87(2)(b) questions regarding § 87(2)(b) including how long she had not been in contact with § 87(2)(b) and whether he was living with her. § 87(2)(b) called § 87(2)(b) ex-wife for her to speak with Det. Sinclair. § 87(2)(b) did not understand their conversation (BR 02).

Det. Sinclair's BWC video shows that, at the 06:14 minute mark, Det. Sinclair asks § 87(2)(b) "When was the last time you've seen him?" as he shows her a picture of § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) says, "Seen who?" Det. Sinclair flips the page and says, "This guy here." § 87(2)(b) shakes her head from side to side and says, "No. I haven't seen him." Det. Sinclair then asks, "Do you know where he is?" § 87(2)(b) says, "No." Det. Sinclair says, "You don't know where he is." § 87(2)(b) answers, "No," as she shakes her head from side to side. Det. Sinclair says, "Well, that's her son." § 87(2)(b) is heard in the back saying, "Don't answer him nothing. They need to get someone in Spanish." Det. Sinclair proceeds to say, "Tell her that a report was made against her son, and we need to talk to her son." Simultaneously, § 87(2)(b) says, "Don't answer him. You are not supposed to be answering anything." § 87(2)(b) stays quiet, and Det. Sinclair says,

"You don't need to get up to translate, you can stay in bed." § 87(2)(b) walks into the room and says, "She does not need to answer. I am her godmother," as she walks towards § 87(2)(b) and sits on the bed. § 87(2)(b) asks § 87(2)(b) "What happened?" § 87(2)(b) is heard talking but it is hard to understand what she says. Det. Sinclair says, "A report was made against him. We need to talk to him. How can we get in touch with him?" § 87(2)(b) stays quiet and seems to have a hard time translating. Then, she is heard in the background translating, "He wants to know where he is." § 87(2)(b) says in Spanish, "He should look for him because I don't even know where he is." § 87(2)(b) says, "She does not know." Det. Sinclair says, "She does not know. She does not have a phone number for him. When was the last time she spoke to him?" § 87(2)(b) replies in Spanish, "I haven't known anything about him in two months." Det. Sinclair repeats, "When was the last time she spoke to him?" § 87(2)(b) replies, "Two months." Det. Sinclair asks, "And how is that she spoke to him? Over the phone or in person?" § 87(2)(b) replies, "He was in the court two months ago, but I was in DR." § 87(2)(b) translates once more for her. Det. Sinclair says, "When I started talking to you, she told you to say no. Why was she telling you to say no?" § 87(2)(b) translates the question, and § 87(2)(b) replies in Spanish, "Because you don't know who he is asking you for." Det. Sinclair says, "Tell her that we'll be back here if we can't find her son. We'll be back almost every day, literally." At the 9:44 minute mark, § 87(2)(b) says in Spanish, "Tell him that you are not supposed to be answering any questions because you are just a 14-year-old little girl. You are not supposed to be answering him. I'll call your mom. Tell him to call someone who speaks Spanish so they can ask me." Then, Det. Sinclair walks out of the room. Det. Sinclair is heard asking § 87(2)(b) "Are you calling your mom?" § 87(2)(b) says, "Yes. She is calling her." At the 10:44 minute mark, § 87(2)(b) stands outside the room facing Det. Sinclair and says in Spanish, "Can't you call someone who speaks Spanish? She is not supposed to be answering you. She is just a little girl." Det. Sinclair interrupts § 87(2)(b) and says, "Are you calling her or not?" § 87(2)(b) says, "Please. Spanish. She is a little girl." At the 10:52 minute mark, Det. Sinclair walks to the door of the room to talk to § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) says, "She needs a translator or someone who speaks Spanish." Det. Sinclair says, "But you do it. Don't you?" § 87(2)(b) replies, "No. I don't." Det. Sinclair says, "So, your mom speaks better Spanish." § 87(2)(b) says, "Yes." Det. Sinclair says, "Can you call your mom again, then?" § 87(2)(b) says, "She is doing it," as she points at § 87(2)(b) says, "One second. I'll look for someone who speaks English." Then, § 87(2)(b) is seen calling someone on the phone (BR 01).

During his first CCRB interview (BR 03), Det. Sinclair stated that he did not believe that he showed § 87(2)(b) a photo of § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair believed that he did not ask § 87(2)(b) any questions about § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair did not ask or find out if § 87(2)(b) had any relation to § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair did not ask any other questions because this was when § 87(2)(b) handed Det. Sinclair a cellphone with another lady, § 87(2)(b), on the phone. Det. Sinclair did not recall the context of his conversation with § 87(2)(b) spoke English. Det. Sinclair explained to § 87(2)(b) why they were there and who they were looking for. Det. Sinclair recalled asking § 87(2)(b) if she knew where § 87(2)(b) was and § 87(2)(b) said that she did not know where he was and did not have any contact information for § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair believed that § 87(2)(b) stated that she was in Florida. A couple of days later, when Det. Sinclair was conducting more investigation, § 87(2)(b) name came up and Det. Sinclair realized that § 87(2)(b) was the mother of § 87(2)(b) daughter.

During his second CCRB interview (BR 04), Det. Sinclair stated that he could not determine on the day of the incident that § 87(2)(b) was a minor just by looking at her. Det. Sinclair did not know § 87(2)(b) was a minor. Later on, during his investigation, Det. Sinclair found out that § 87(2)(b) was § 87(2)(b) daughter. Det. Sinclair did not believe he questioned § 87(2)(b) regarding § 87(2)(b) whereabouts. Legal representative Robert Alongi explained that Det. Sinclair did not need parental permission to question § 87(2)(b) since she was not the subject they were looking for § 87(2)(b) was considered a witness to § 87(2)(b) whereabouts. Det. Sinclair said that they could use a civilian as an interpreter under any circumstances and that he did not need to contact the language line services for § 87(2)(b) because it was not needed. Det. Sinclair stated that the “little girl” was not part of the investigation. Rep. Robert Alongi said that officers do not take interpreters with them under the same circumstances because it only entails an investigation. Det. Sinclair said that the only reason officers would call for an interpreter was when civilians needed to file the report so everything could be written down accurately. Det. Sinclair’s BWC video was played from the 10:50 minute mark to the 10:57 minute mark. After reviewing BWC, Det. Sinclair said that he did not need to call the language line even though § 87(2)(b) requested an interpreter because he was just gathering intel and not accusing them of a crime. After § 87(2)(b) refused to have § 87(2)(b) as an interpreter, Det. Sinclair said that he did not understand Spanish, so he did not know what § 87(2)(b) was requesting. Even though § 87(2)(b) asked Det. Sinclair in English to request an interpreter for § 87(2)(b) Det. Sinclair did not determine § 87(2)(b) was requesting an interpreter for § 87(2)(b) Det. Sinclair had his department phone number. Det. Sinclair admitted to asking a female over the phone to be an interpreter for § 87(2)(b)

Patrol Guide Procedure 212-11 states that a request for information is an encounter between a civilian and a uniformed member of the service conducted for the purpose of requesting information from the civilian. The objective is to gather information and not to focus on the person as a potential suspect. A police officer may seek information related to the reason(s) the person was approached, such as the person’s name, address, and destination, if those questions are related to the objective credible reason for the approach. The officer may not ask accusatory questions (BR 12).

Patrol Guide Procedure 212-90 defines a Limited English Proficient (LEP) individual as someone whose primary language is not English and who is unable to effectively read, write, speak, or understand English. Should an officer encounter an LEP person and when the services of an interpreter are necessary, the member of the service can utilize the Language Line Service or the Language Initiative Program to obtain an interpreter. When considering whether to use a bilingual member of the public, the member of the service should weigh four factors to determine if the use of the non-member of the service interpreter is appropriate (BR 13):

- a. The nature and importance of the police services being provided
- b. The apparent capacity of the interpreter
- c. The apparent impartiality of the interpreter
- d. The sensitivity/confidentiality of the topic.

A child should not be used as an interpreter for any kind of police incident. Some words and concepts are difficult for a child to understand and translate into another language. Interviewees are not likely to be forthcoming if a child is used to interpret and will be especially hesitant to reveal details of a sexual assault to a police officer through a child. In many cases, other than for ongoing investigations and document translation, an efficient method of obtaining interpretation services is through the use of the Language Line Service. Therefore, uniformed members of the service must have the Department-issued cellular telephone easily accessible at all times while on patrol.

It is clear from BWC footage that Det. Sinclair repeatedly asked § 87(2)(b) about § 87(2)(b) whereabouts § 87(2)(g). Therefore, it is recommended that Allegation C be closed as Within NYPD Guidelines.

BWC footage shows Det. Sinclair asking 14-year-old § 87(2)(b) to act as a translator for § 87(2)(b) asking multiple times for someone who spoke Spanish and stating that she did not feel comfortable with § 87(2)(b) translating, and § 87(2)(b) expressing that she did not speak Spanish fluently and that § 87(2)(b) was requesting an interpreter. § 87(2)(g)

Therefore, it is recommended that Allegation D be closed as Substantiated.

Allegation (E) Abuse of Authority: Detective Michael Sinclair failed to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that Det. Sinclair gathered the information he needed, wrote his name and phone number on a piece of paper, and the officers left (BR 02).

Det. Sinclair's BWC video shows, at the 17:37 minute mark, Det. Sinclair says that he needs to provide a business card, but he does not have any left. Det. Sinclair asks Det. Mccrain for a blank business card, but Det. Mccrain claims that he does not have anymore. At the 19:19 minute mark, Det. Sinclair asks for a piece of paper to leave his phone number. At the 19:35 minute mark, Det. Sinclair is heard saying, "I gonna leave you my phone number," and is seen writing something down though it is not clear exactly what he writes. At the 19:55 minute mark, Det. Sinclair hands a piece of paper to § 87(2)(b) and says, "Okay. This is my phone number. Tell her to get in touch with his lawyer and call me." Then, he exits the apartment (BR 01).

During his first CCRB interview (BR 03), Det. Sinclair stated that he wrote down his name, shield number, and phone number on a piece of paper for § 87(2)(b). Det. Sinclair forgot to bring business cards on the day of the incident because they were inside his vest, and he wore a different vest on the incident date. During his second CCRB interview (BR 04), Det. Sinclair reviewed BWC and stated that he wrote his name and shield number along with the department's phone number on a piece of paper even though he was heard on BWC saying that he had only written his phone number.

According to Administrative Guide 304-11, a business card is to be offered for a law enforcement activity, including a home search. If the supply of pre-printed business cards becomes depleted, offer members of the public a generic right-to-know business card with identification information written down legibly or allow members of the public ample time to write down identification information (BR 14).

§ 87(2)(g)

§ 87(2)(b) BWC does not capture the information that Det. Sinclair wrote on the piece of paper.

§ 87(2)(g)

Therefore, it is recommended that Allegation E be closed as Unable to Determine.
