Plaintiffs Tara Schilling (hereinafter “Tara”) and Deirdre Livingston (hereinafter “Deidre”) (collectively “Plaintiffs”) through their undersigned counsel, as and for their Complaint against Gary Walsh (“Walsh”), Debra “Doe” (last name unknown) (“Doe”), Mt. Sinai Health System Inc. (“Mt. Sinai”), City of New York (“NYC”), the New York City Police Department (“NYPD”) (collectively NYC and NYPD are referred to as “NYC Defendants”), Police Officer Tollis, Shield #7293 (“Officer Tollis”), and Police Officer Berk, Shield #1657 (“Officer Berk”) (collectively all defendants are referred to as “Defendants”), allege as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Plaintiffs are the sisters of Taya Williams (“Taya”) who passed away on December 7, 2019 at Mt. Sinai Hospital located at 1 Gustave L. Levy Place, New York, NY 10029 (the “Hospital”). Plaintiffs sought to spend the last days or hours of Taya’s life with her in peace. Instead, Defendants subjected them and their dying sister to a nightmarish experience more akin to a horror movie rather than to a hospice setting in a well-respected Manhattan hospital.

2. The ringleaders of this outrage were Walsh, who claims to be or to have been a court bailiff in the New York Court System, and his friend and accomplice, Doe. Some months earlier, Walsh and Doe had taken over virtually every aspect of Taya’s life and isolated her from her friends and family. Just four (4) months prior to Taya’s death. Walsh had her, then in grave condition, rewrite her will, leaving everything to him. Walsh induced Taya to sign a power of attorney, which purported to give him complete control over Taya’s finances. In addition, he also induced her into executing a health proxy, which gave him complete authority over her medical decisions.

3. When Deidre arrived at the Hospital, Walsh – with Doe’s active participation – sought to block Plaintiffs from having access to their sister. They did so to prevent Plaintiffs from learning the full extent to which he had asserted complete domain over their sister at a time when she was extremely ill and debilitated. Walsh blocked Plaintiffs’ attempts to determine what documents he had Taya sign, which he claimed gave him complete authority over her health care and finances. Walsh did everything in his power, including enlisting the aid of the NYPD, to prevent them from learning the truth.

4. As set forth in detail below, Walsh and Doe cruelly taunted Deidre and Tara about how their sister did not want to see them, blocked their access to their sister, assaulted and battered Deidre and added to their torment by loudly asking hospital staff when Taya’s “ETA”, i.e. death, could be expected. Unfortunately, the remaining Defendants, who had every opportunity to stop this outrageous conduct not only refused to do so, they actually stepped in and fostered it.

5. The conduct of Walsh and Doe was appalling and equally shocking was the condonation and facilitation of that conduct by the other Defendants. Doe, knowing that Walsh was in possession of a deadly weapon in the hospital room screamed that she was "...going to get Gary to shoot both of you!" and further that [I] will kill you [Deidre] and your bitch sister in California [Taya] when she gets here!".

6. Walsh and Doe further verbally abused Plaintiffs, and actually assaulted and battered Deidre. They screamed, laughed, and joked with one another about the abuse they were inflicting on the Plaintiffs, and inter alia, mocked Deidre by screaming, "You are going to rot in hell!" and called her a "Bitch".

7. This all occurred at the Hospital. Plaintiffs complained to the nurse at the front desk, not even some fifteen (15) calls from the nurse to Mt. Sinai administration could bring a response. Defendant Mt. Sinai aided in the interference by refusing to timely or otherwise assist Plaintiffs' even while this abuse was being conducted on their hospital premises.

8. Finally, Plaintiffs turned to help from the NYPD, a decision that made their plight worse. The Defendant Police Officers, knowing that Deidre had been terrorized, falsely imprisoned Deidre by forcing to stay alone in a small room with Walsh and, in her presence, laughed about doing so and mocked the distress it was causing her. These Police Officers put their unwarranted and ill-conceived camaraderie with Walsh ahead of their duty to Deidre. It was, to be blunt, a disgusting and appalling breach of their duties.

9. Plaintiffs seek damages arising from the tortious conduct of the Defendants. All of the Defendants individually and collectively engaged in conduct, which put Deidre in fear of physical harm and subjected her, and Tara, to severe emotional distress. As a result of their tortious conduct, the Plaintiffs suffered pain, mental trauma, shame, embarrassment, suffering and personal and public humiliation.

23. This matter has not been settled or otherwise disposed of.

24. This action has been commenced within one year and ninety days of the date of occurrence of the events giving rise to this Complaint.

BACKGROUND

25. During the week of December 2, 2019, Taya, was receiving palliative care at the Hospital. Deidre and Tara were notified that Taya was in terminal condition, and that her death was imminent. Deidre, on December 3, 2019, traveled from her home in Atlanta, Georgia to be with her sister. Tara, who was recovering from major back surgery and a stroke which prevented her from travelling, intended to videoconference with her sister, Deidre, once she arrived at Mt. Sinai.

26. Upon Deidre's arrival at Mt. Sinai Hospital, she entered Taya's room, KP6 within the Palliative Care Unit. Tare intended to participate via FaceTime (or another video application) on her phone.

27. Walsh and Doe were already inside Taya's room and they immediately confronted Deidre and, by FaceTime, Tara. Neither Plaintiff had met Doe and Deidre had only previously met Walsh briefly. Neither Plaintiff knew of any significant relationship that these two (2) Defendants purportedly had with Taya.

28. After Plaintiffs introduced themselves, Doe became hostile. Doe, without provocation, screamed at Deidre to "...get [Tara] off of Facetime!" She then repeatedly tried to end the call by lunging at Deidre and pushing the buttons on Deidre's phone while it was still in her hand.

29. When Deidre told Doe to "Stop," Doe attempted to forcibly grab the phone from her. Doe pushed and shoved Deidre, but was unable to take the phone from her.

30. Tara witnessed all the above via video. .

31. During this ordeal, Walsh was also screaming at Deidre, repeatedly calling her a "Bitch" and telling her that Tara is a "Bitch" and that, "We will take care of her when she gets here too."

32. When medical personnel entered the room, Walsh began to yell, "What is her ETA,” “How long does she got?” and “When are pulling her off the support?” He repeated this again and again throughout the Plaintiffs’ hospital visits, as if he did not have the time to wait for her to pass. Plaintiffs were unaware that when their sister passed, all her assets would pass to Walsh. Nor were they aware at the time that Walsh had already seized control over those assets via a general power of attorney.

33. Doe repeated to Plaintiffs that she had final say over “everything” related to Taya and could, “Do whatever she wanted.”

34. Deidre began to cry. She implored Defendants Walsh and Doe to leave her alone, that she needed to be with her sister during her final moments. Doe told Deidre that Deidre should be the one to leave.

35. After Walsh left the room Doe menacingly told Plaintiffs “Gary has a gun,” that she was “Going to get Gary to shoot both of you” and that Gary would “take care of both of you.” Doe then left the room, telling Plaintiffs that she was going to “Get Gary.”

36. Doe quickly returned to Taya’s room and called for Mt. Sinai Hospital security to remove Deidre from her sister’s hospital room. Doe claimed that she had the full authority to act on behalf of Taya and that she was supposedly doing only what Taya would do.

37. Mt. Sinai Security arrived and summarily escorted a crying Deidre out of Taya’s hospital room. Security made no effort to investigate.

38. Plaintiffs then contacted the night nurse who informed them that Walsh was Taya’s Health Care Proxy. Mt. Sinai however, refused to provide Plaintiffs with any documentation or to make any inquiry as to when or under what circumstances Walsh had obtained the proxy.

39. The Plaintiffs requested that Mt. Sinai permit Deidre to return to Taya’s room. Their request was denied.

40. Tara then contacted her attorney, who was able to obtain the Health Care Proxy documentation previously requested from Mr. Sinai. Mt. Sinai, however, continued to refuse to investigate the circumstances surrounding that proxy despite the fact that the Plaintiffs advised that they had never heard their sister or any of her friends mention Walsh or “Debra”, the only name they had for Doe.

41. Tara’s counsel also requested that Deidre be permitted access to Taya, but was able only to obtain (2) hours of visitation on each of the next two (2) days, one hour in the afternoon, and one in the evening.

42. The Defendants Mt. Sinai, Walsh and Doe denied Plaintiffs any further access.

43. Mt. Sinai did not even honor that inadequately brief time. The following day, Deidre returned to the Hospital to exercise her scheduled visitation with Taya. Once again, Tara was present via FaceTime on Deidre’s cellular phone. Walsh and Doe were again present. Walsh was visibly armed, displaying a gun holstered on his leg or hip, which Deidre noted with alarm.

44. While Deidre was holding her dying sister’s hand, Doe again became verbally abusive, calling her a “bitch” and “Gary is going to take care of you.”

45. For reasons unknown to the Plaintiffs, Walsh and Doe then left Taya’s room.

46. With only Deidre in the room and Tara on FaceTime, David Collett, a Nurse Practitioner, entered Taya’s room and asked Deidre to sign an Autopsy Examination Form, which she did.

47. Shortly thereafter, Doe returned to the room and again began to verbally attack Deidre, yelling, “What are you trying to prove.” Doe then lunged at Deidre with her arms out in a threatening matter. Doe yelled “You had no right to order an autopsy, you are a bad person and a bad sister,” “Karma is going to get you,” “You are going to rot in hell!”

48. While Deidre was holding Taya’s hand, Doe moved her face extremely close to Deidre’s face and began to point at her face with her finger. Deidre was again in fear for her safety at the same time she was trying to spend some peaceful time with Taya.

49. Deidre again began to tear and asked Doe to “Just leave” her alone, that she had “No idea” who she was nor of any relationship she had with Taya.

50. Doe left the room, but Deidre heard her shouting “Gary” in the hallway and that he needed to “take care” of Deidre.

51. Walsh obliged by shouting at Plaintiffs, “I will kill you and your bitch sister in California when she gets here!”

52. Doe then threatened to shoot the Plaintiffs with Walsh’s gun, shouting, “I’ll use Gary’s gun and shoot you and your sister!”.

Tara implored Deidre to leave the room and tell someone that their lives were being threatened.

53. Deidre, with Tara still on FaceTime, went to the nurses’ station, which was located on the same floor as Taya’s room.

54. The Plaintiffs explained the situation to a nurse at the station and requested that she contact someone at Administration for assistance. The nurse picked up the phone and the Plaintiffs heard her explaining to someone what they had just informed her. Over the next three (3) hours, the nurse made approximately fourteen (14) more attempts for assistance. Throughout all of this, Deidre did not leave the hospital. No one from Mt. Sinai security bothered to appear, however, despite being put on express notice of a real and imminent threat to one of its visitors.

55. After approximately three (3) hours, Tara contacted the NYPD.

56. Some thirty (30) minutes later, Officer Tollis and Officer Berk appeared on the scene.

57. Around the same time a Mt. Sinai Hospital Administrator named Veronica (last name unknown) finally appeared.

58. Rather than apologizing for taking more than three (3) hours to respond to Plaintiffs' requests for help, Veronica berated the Plaintiffs for calling the Police and was otherwise hostile.

59. Tara told Veronica that Walsh and Doe had threatened their lives and that they did not call the Police until after waiting approximately three (3) hours for a Hospital Administrator to arrive. Deidre added that Walsh had a gun and that he and Doe had threatened her and her sister and that she was "afraid for her life."

60. Tara explained the situation fully to Veronica. She told her that her sister, Taya, was on her deathbed and that they only had limited time with her. She expressly told Veronica that both she and Deidre were distraught and fearful for their lives. Veronica did nothing.

61. All of this occurred in the presence of the police officers.

62. Around the same time, the Plaintiffs then observed Officer Tollis speaking with Walsh and the two (2) of them laughing together.

63. With Tara still on video , Officer Tollis and the Female Officer took Walsh and Deidre into a small room.

64. Once confined within the small room, Deidre attempted to speak to Officer Tollis, but was extremely emotional and unable to explain the situation. The Plaintiffs observed Officer Tollis roll his eyes and laugh at Deidre when she was becoming emotional. Tara attempted to talk via FaceTime and explain what had occurred. Officer Tollis, however, hung up on her and confiscated the phone.

65. Still inside the room and in the presence of Officer Tollis and Officer Berk, Walsh continued to verbally assault Deidre, calling her, inter alia, a “Dumb female” and a “Dumb bitch!.” The two (2) officers took no steps to stop Walsh. Instead, they treated the situation as if it were a joke.

66. At one point the officers left the room and instructed Deidre to stay there with Walsh to work it out. Despite Deidre’s frantic protests, the officers ordered her to obey their directions. Fearful of being taken to jail, Deidre remained alone with Walsh for several harrowing minutes during which Walsh continued to mock and torment her.

67. When Officer Tollis returned, a desperate Deidre showed him a letter from counsel and told him that she and her sister had representation to assist with what was happening. Officer Tollis said that this “piece of paper” meant nothing to him because it “wasn’t signed by a Judge.” Walsh, clearly emboldened by the outrageous conduct of the officers, again called Deidre, in the officers’ presence, inter alia: a “Nasty bitch.”

68. During this time, Tara attempted to call Deidre’s cellular phone numerous times, as she was fearful for her well-being.

69. Unable to reach Deidre, Tara contacted the 23rd Precinct of the New York City Police Department to find out the full names and badge numbers of the Officers that were with Deidre and to request further assistance. She was repeatedly hung up on.

70. At approximately 11:00pm, Deidre was ordered by Officer Tollis to leave the hospital. Deidre was given her cellular phone back. She was then made to wait outside in the cold, in an area in which she was unfamiliar, until her cab arrived. In fear, she urinated in her pants. The Police Officers denied her requests to wait inside. Veronica also told Officer Tollis to, “Get her out of here!”

71. The next day, Deidre returned to Mt. Sinai Hospital to exercise her scheduled visitation after her counsel spoke with an attorney in Mt. Sinai's General Counsel's office. Upon arrival, she went directly to speak with the security staff and requested that Walsh and Doe be removed from Taya's room prior to her visiting. Deidre felt so threatened by Walsh and Doe she requested that a hospital security stand guard at Taya's door during the visit. During the Plaintiffs' final visit, Walsh attempted to enter the room, but was stopped by security.

72. Taya passed away on December 7, 2019. Neither Walsh nor Doe attended her funeral. Plaintiffs' were in such fear for their physical and emotional safety, as well as that of the others attending the funeral, that they hired Security Guards as protection for themselves and the mourners.

73. The several days of abuse have taken a toll on, and traumatized, both Tara and Deidre. Their last hours with their sister will forever be marred by the loathsome behavior described above. They have each suffered, and continue to suffer, enormous distress and anxiety as a direct result.
