6. The amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00 excluding interest and costs.

VENUE

7. Venue is laid within the Eastern District of New York in that Defendant City of New York is located within and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claim occurred within the boundaries of the Eastern District.

PARTIES

8. Plaintiff resided at all times here relevant in Kings County, City and State of New York.

9. The City of New York (or “the City”) is a municipal corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York. At all times relevant hereto, Defendant City, acting through the New York Police Department (or “NYPD”), was responsible for the policy, practice, supervision, implementation, and conduct of all NYPD matters and was responsible for the appointment, training, supervision, discipline and retention and conduct of all NYPD personnel. In addition, at all times here relevant, Defendant City was responsible for enforcing the rules of the NYPD, and for ensuring that the NYPD personnel obey the laws of the United States and the State of New York.

10. Defendant police officers were, at all times here relevant, police officers of the NYPD, and as such were acting in the capacity of agents, servants and employees of the City of New York. On information and belief, at all times relevant hereto, defendant officers were involved in the decision to arrest plaintiff without probable cause or failed to intervene in the actions of their fellow officers when they observed them arresting plaintiff without probable cause. On information and belief, at all times relevant hereto, defendant officers were under the command of the Narcotics Bureau Brooklyn North and are sued in their individual capacity.

11. At all times here mentioned defendants were acting under color of state law, to wit, under color of the statutes, ordinances, regulations, policies, customs and usages of the City and State of New York.

NOTICE OF CLAIM

12. Within 90 days of the events giving rise to these claims, plaintiff filed written notices of claim with the New York City Office of the Comptroller. Over 30 days have elapsed since the filing of those notices, and this matter has not been settled or otherwise disposed of.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

13. Mr. Blackett is a 45 year old man who has lived at 685 Sheffield Ave, Brooklyn, NY his entire life. On September 26, 2012, he returned home from work and was spending some time with friends inside the location.

14. At approximately 7:50 PM, the defendant officers banged on the front door of 685 Sheffield and demanded Mr. Blackett allow them to enter. Mr. Blackett opened the door and was immediately pushed in the chest by one of the NYPD officers. Shocked and scared, Mr. Blackett told the officers they were not permitted inside his home. The officers responded by punching Mr. Blackett in the face. Additional officers immediately grabbed Mr. Blackett's arms, spun him around and took him to the ground where he was handcuffed.

15. Mr. Blackett was searched and no illegal substances or weapons were found on his person or in his vicinity. Mr. Blackett did have a black bag containing identification in his hand that was knocked to the ground after he was punched. The identification, which was picked up by the defendant officers, reflected Mr. Blackett's name and his address as 685 Sheffield.

16. After he was handcuffed, the defendant officers continued inside his home and conducted a search without a warrant or exigent circumstances.

17. Without cause, Mr. Blackett was placed under arrest and transferred to the precinct. He was bleeding profusely from the mouth. Due to his obvious injuries, an ambulance transported him to Brookdale Hospital for medical treatment. He was diagnosed with a laceration to both his upper and lower lip and received more than fifteen stitches.

18. The following day, Mr. Blackett was taken before a judge in Brooklyn Criminal Court and falsely charged with misdemeanor possession of narcotics and resisting arrest. He was released without bail. After several additional court appearances, all charges have now been dismissed and sealed.

19. At all times during the events described above, the defendant police officers were engaged in a joint venture and formed an agreement to violate plaintiff's rights. The individual officers assisted each other in performing the various actions described and lent their physical presence and support and the authority of their office to each other during said events. They failed to intervene in the obviously illegal actions of their fellow officers against plaintiff.

20. During all of the events above described, defendants acted maliciously and with intent to injure plaintiff.

26. Defendants subjected plaintiff to false arrest, false imprisonment, and deprivation of liberty without probable cause.

27. Defendants intended to confine plaintiff, plaintiff was conscious of his confinement and did not consent to his confinement.

28. Defendants, their officers, agents, servants and employees, were responsible for plaintiff's arrest, detention and imprisonment during this period of time. Defendant City, as employer of Officer Defendants, is responsible for their wrongdoing under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

29. As a direct and proximate result of the misconduct and the abuse of authority detailed above, plaintiff sustained the damages described above.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
Assault and Battery

30. The above paragraphs are here incorporated by reference.

31. Upon approaching plaintiff, grabbing him, throwing him to the floor and striking him, defendants made plaintiff fear for his physical well-being and safety and placed him in apprehension of immediate harmful and offensive touching.

32. Defendants engaged in and subjected plaintiff to immediate harmful and offensive touching and battered him without his consent.

33. Defendants used excessive and unnecessary force with plaintiff.

34. Defendants, their officers, agents, servants and employees, were responsible for plaintiff's arrest, detention and imprisonment during this period of time. Defendant City, as employer of Officer Defendants, is responsible for their wrongdoing under the doctrine of respondeat superior.

35. As a direct and proximate result of the misconduct and the abuse of authority detailed above, plaintiff sustained the damages described above.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
Municipal Liability 42 U.S.C. §1983

36. The above paragraphs are here incorporated by reference.

37. The City is liable for the damages suffered by plaintiff as a result of the conduct of their employees, agents, and servants, in that, after learning of their employees' violation of plaintiff's constitutional rights, they failed to remedy the wrong; they have created a policy or custom under which unconstitutional practices occurred and allowed such policies or customs to continue, and they have been grossly negligent in managing subordinates who caused the unlawful condition or event.

38. The City has been alerted to the regular use of excessive force and false arrests by its police officers, but has nevertheless exhibited deliberate indifference to such excessive force and false arrests; that deliberate indifference caused the violation of plaintiff's constitutional rights in this case.

39. The aforesaid event was not an isolated incident. The City has been aware for some time, from lawsuits, notices of claim, complaints filed with the Civilian Complaint Review Board, and judicial rulings suppressing evidence and finding officers incredible as a matter of law, that a disturbing number of his police officers use excessive force, unlawfully search and seize citizens, bring charges against citizens with no legal basis, perjure themselves in charging instruments and testimony, and fail to intervene in and report the obviously illegal actions of his fellow officers. Nevertheless, the City has allowed policies and practices that allow the aforementioned to persist.

40. For example, the well documented failures of the Civilian Complaint Review Board (“the CCRB”), a City agency, to substantiate obviously meritorious citizen complaints have gone uncorrected. The CCRB regularly finds complainants lack credibility based on the fact that such complainants have also brought lawsuits to remedy the wrongs they have experienced, a practice that often results in not substantiating the most serious charges brought to them. In addition, the CCRB virtually never initiates their own findings of false statements against officers who have made false statements to the CCRB in their own defense, nor do they initiate findings that officers have failed to report their fellow officers’ misconduct; thus, officers have no real incentive to come forward, or to testify truthfully at the CCRB. The CCRB has no enforcement mechanisms once making a finding against an officer; it can only make recommendations to the NYPD, once finding misconduct by an officer.

41. The NYPD, once receiving a substantiated complaint by the CCRB, fails to adequately discipline officers for misconduct. The NYPD Department Advocate, which is endowed with the responsibility of following up on substantiated CCRB charges, is understaffed and under-utilized. Furthermore, in the extraordinarily rare event that the CCRB substantiates a complaint and the Department Advocate proves the case in an internal trial against an officer, the police commissioner still maintains the power to reduce the discipline against such an officer, which Commissioner Kelly has done on many occasions.

42. Further, the City has no procedure to notify individual officers or his supervisors of unfavorable judicial review of his conduct. Without this notification, improper search and seizure practices and incredible testimony go uncorrected. Additionally, according to a report of the New York City Bar Association issued in 2000, the City has isolated his law department from the discipline of police officers, so that civil suits against police officers for actions taken in his capacity as police officers have no impact on the officers' careers, regardless of the outcome of the civil actions. Alan Hevesi, as New York City Comptroller, in 1999 reported that there was a "a total disconnect" between the settlements of even substantial civil claims and police department action against officers.

43. The City is aware that all of the aforementioned has resulted in violations of citizens' constitutional rights. Despite such notice, the City has failed to take corrective action. This failure and these policies caused the officers in the present case to violate plaintiff's civil rights, without fear of reprisal.

44. Plaintiff has been damaged as a result of the deliberate indifference of the City to the constitutional rights of the City's inhabitants.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

46. On the date of this incident, plaintiff resided at 685 Sheffield Avenue, Brooklyn, NY. Defendants voluntarily and intentionally entered the home of plaintiff without his consent.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff demands judgment against the defendants, jointly and severally, as follows:

- A. In favor of plaintiff in an amount to be determined by a jury for each of plaintiff's causes of action;
- B. Awarding plaintiff punitive damages in an amount to be determined by a jury;
