SEVENTH, EIGHTH, NINTH, TENTH CAUSES OF ACTION

42 U.S.C. § 1983 and 42 U.S.C. 1988

Violation of First, Fourth, Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments of US Constitution pursuant to Court's concurrent jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' federal first-amendment-retaliation claim (7th claim); false-arrest/unlawful-search claims (8th claim); malicious-prosecution claim (9th claim) and deprivation-of-fair-trial claim (10th claim).

51. The plaintiffs repeat, reiterate and reallege each and every allegation contained in paragraphs marked 1 through 50 with the same force and effect as if more fully set forth at length herein.
52. Defendants, while acting under color of state law, engaged in conduct that violated Plaintiffs' federal constitutional rights as protected by 42 USC Section 1983.
53. New York State courts have concurrent jurisdiction to hear federal claims such as Plaintiffs' Section 1983 ones here.
54. Plaintiffs' federal constitutional claims—brought pursuant to 42 USC 1983 and 1988—allege the violation of their First, Fourth, Fifth and Fourteenth Amendment rights.
55. In particular, Plaintiffs alleges that Defendants' retaliatory and harassing false arrest, use of undue force upon him, unlawful search, malicious prosecution and fabrication of evidence violated her First, Fourth, Fifth and Fourteenth Amendment rights insofar as Defendants had no cause or legal privilege to submit Plaintiffs to deprivation of his liberty, seizure and search of their person, and other constitutional injuries, yet they did so with malice and retaliatory intent.

56. Insofar as Plaintiffs' federal claims, brought pursuant to the court's concurrent jurisdiction over them, mirror state constitutional tort and tort elements, Plaintiffs repeat and reiterate the above allegations in support of the federal claims here.
57. In the event Plaintiffs prevail at trial on one, some or all of their 42 USC Section 1983 claims pursuant to the court's concurrent jurisdiction, she also seeks reasonable fees and costs as prevailing party pursuant to 42 USC Section 1988.

59. Defendants, collectively and individually, while acting under color of state law, engaged in conduct that constituted a custom, usage, practice, procedure or rule of defendant City of New York, which is forbidden by the Constitution of the United States.
60. The aforementioned customs, policies, usages, practices, procedures and rules of defendant City of New York and the New York Police Department included, but were not limited to policies, customs and practices wherein New York City Police officers arrest individuals without probable cause and create false versions of events to justify their actions to achieve remunerative ends through overtime, to achieve professional advancement through arrest numbers, and to satisfy personal whims through retaliatory use of their authority.
61. The aforementioned customs, policies, usages, practices, procedures and rules of defendant City of New York and the New York Police Department were the moving force behind the violation of plaintiffs' constitutional rights as described herein. As a result of the failure of defendant City of New York and the New York City Police Department to properly recruit, screen, train, discipline, and supervise its officers, including the individual defendants, defendant City of New York has tacitly authorized, ratified, and has been deliberately indifferent to, the acts and conduct complained of herein.
62. Similarly, the City of NY is on notice of the obvious risk that their failure to train, discipline and supervise its officers—and in particular these specific Defendants who discovery will show to have been the subject of misconduct allegations that went uncorrected—proximately caused the constitutional violations suffered by Plaintiffs here.
63. The foregoing customs, policies, usages, practices, and procedures and rules of defendant City of New York and the New York City Police Department were the moving force behind the Constitutional violations suffered by plaintiffs as alleged herein.
64. As a result of the foregoing customs, policies, usages, practices, and procedures and rules of defendant City of New York and the New York City Police Department, plaintiffs were unlawfully arrested, subjected to undue force and unlawful search, and prosecuted.

65. Defendants collectively and individually, while acting under color of state law were directly and actively involved in violating plaintiffs' constitutional rights.

WHEREFORE, ALVIN SCOTT and SHAWN STARKE, plaintiffs, demand a judgment against the defendants on each cause of action in amounts to be determined upon the trial of this actions which exceeds the jurisdiction of lower courts, inclusive of punitive damages and attorney's fees inclusive of costs and disbursements of this action, interest and such other relief as appropriate under the law.
