Case Summary

On January 21, 2021, § 87(2)(b) submitted this complaint to the CCRB via their website.

At approximately 9:00 p.m. on January 19, 2021, Police Officers Christian Santos and Christian Feraca of the 77th Precinct were dispatched to § 87(2)(b) Brooklyn, in response to a 911 call regarding a stabbing. Upon arriving, PO Santos and PO Feraca entered the home (Allegations A and B: Abuse of Authority – Subject Resigned) and allegedly refused to obtain medical treatment for the stabbing victim, § 87(2)(b) (Allegations C and D: Abuse of Authority – Subject Resigned). Then PO Feraca allegedly told § 87(2)(b) that he should “bleed out like a dog” and PO Santos called § 87(2)(b) a “fucking idiot” (Allegations E, F and G: Offensive Language and Discourtesy – Subject Resigned). § 87(2)(b) was placed into an ambulance and removed to the hospital. Police Officers Matthew Melendez and Chandrapaul Temal then forcibly removed an individual from inside the house, with PO Melendez saying, “Get him the fuck out of here” and PO Temal saying, “What the fuck is wrong with you, bro?” (Allegations H and I: Force and Discourtesy – Substantiated) (Allegations J and K: Force and Discourtesy – Substantiated). Once the individual was outside the residence, Police Officer Ryan Gaynor pushed him and then § 87(2)(b) (Allegation L: Force – Substantiated) (Allegation M: Force – Unsubstantiated). Once the house had been searched and cleared by Field Intelligence Officers, Inspector John Buttacavoli searched the upstairs bedrooms for a knife (Allegation N: Abuse – Substantiated). After doing so, all officers left the incident location. No arrests or summons were issued.

Multiple BWC videos were yielded and are linked in the case file as IA #28 (Board Review 01). No other surveillance or video evidence was obtained during the investigation.

Findings and Recommendations

Allegation (A) Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Christian Feraca entered § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn.

Allegation (B) Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Christian Santos entered § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn.

Allegation (C) Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Christian Feraca did not obtain medical treatment for § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (D) Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Christian Santos did not obtain medical treatment for § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (E) Offensive Language: Police Officer Christian Feraca made remarks to § 87(2)(b) based upon race.

Allegation (F) Discourtesy: Police Officer Christian Feraca spoke discourteously to § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (G) Discourtesy: Police Officer Christian Santos spoke discourteously to § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b) provided a statement on January 29, 2021. Contact attempts were exhausted for other civilians and no additional statements were provided. Insp. Buttacavoli was interviewed on May 9, 2022. PO Melendez and PO Temal were interviewed on May 10, 2022. Lt. Delman and PO Gaynor were interviewed on May 12, 2022.

It is undisputed that PO Feraca and PO Santos entered § 87(2)(b) Brooklyn, on January 19, 2021.

§ 87(2)(b) was inside her home at § 87(2)(b) Brooklyn, with her boyfriend, § 87(2)(b) when two of her ex-boyfriends arrived. § 87(2)(b) declined to provide the full names or contact information of her ex-boyfriends but stated their first names are § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b). One of § 87(2)(b) friends was also present and was intoxicated, though § 87(2)(b) declined to provide his name or contact information. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) and the other individual were involved in a physical dispute which began outside the building and moved inside. Either § 87(2)(b) or § 87(2)(b) stabbed § 87(2)(b). One of § 87(2)(b) sisters, § 87(2)(b) called 9-1-1 but § 87(2)(b) did not know what information § 87(2)(b) provided the operator other than that § 87(2)(b) had been stabbed. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) left the location while § 87(2)(b) waited for the ambulance with § 87(2)(b) in the living room, on the first floor of the house. After approximately 10 to 15 minutes, five to six police vehicles arrived, but § 87(2)(b) did not know how many officers there were. PO Feraca, PO Santos, and EMS entered the house and approached § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) in the living room. § 87(2)(b) informed PO Feraca and PO Santos that § 87(2)(b) needed medical assistance and when the EMT personnel attempted to assist § 87(2)(b) PO Feraca grabbed one of the EMT's hands and pushed it aside so that the EMT was not able to assist § 87(2)(b). PO Feraca pushed the EMT's hand away multiple times and told the EMT that she should let § 87(2)(b) "bleed out like the dog he is" and that § 87(2)(b) "should have called ASPCA instead of the police." PO Feraca and PO Santos told the EMTs that they could not assist § 87(2)(b) until he answered the officer's questions about the assailant who stabbed him. PO Santos called § 87(2)(b) a "fucking idiot" when he would not answer.

PO Santos and PO Feraca's BWC videos (Board Review 25, 26) showed that they entered the house first and examined § 87(2)(b) injuries while he lay on the floor. Neither officer attempted to prevent EMTs from rendering treatment to § 87(2)(b) and neither officer made discourteous or offensive comments to § 87(2)(b).

Ultimately, EMTs provided medical attention to § 87(2)(b) and he was removed to the hospital via ambulance (Board Review 02 and 03).

§ 87(2)(g) Therefore, it is recommended that Allegations A, B, C, D, E, F, and G be closed as Subject Resigned.

Allegation (H) Force: Police Officer Matthew Melendez used physical force against an Individual.

Allegation (I) Discourtesy: Police Officer Matthew Melendez spoke discourteously to an Individual.

Allegation (J) Force: Police Officer Chandrapaul Temal used physical force against an Individual.

Allegation (K) Discourtesy: Police Officer Chandrapaul Temal spoke discourteously to an Individual.

Allegation (L) Force: Police Officer Ryan Gaynor used physical force against an Individual.

Allegation (M) Force: Police Officer Ryan Gaynor used physical force against § 87(2)(b).

After accompanying § 87(2)(b) to the ambulance, § 87(2)(b) observed PO Melendez and PO Temal removing her friend from the house by pulling him down the stairs, with each officer on either side of the upright individual and grabbing him by his arms and back. Once on the sidewalk outside the house, PO Gaynor pushed the individual and then § 87(2)(b) which resulted in § 87(2)(b) falling backward and twisting her ankle. § 87(2)(b) and the individual then went to her parents' house, who lived next door, and remained there until police left the location. § 87(2)(b) was not injured as a result of the push, and it was not known whether the unidentified individual was injured (Board Review 02 and 03).

PO Melendez and PO Temal provided consistent testimony that they were standing next to one another in the living room of § 87(2)(b) when they were approached by an individual that they believed to be intoxicated because he was slurring his words and appeared to be swaying. Neither officer suspected the individual of any criminality, nor did they have specific safety concerns regarding him, though PO Melendez stated that because there at been a stabbing at the location, his guard was raised. Neither officer believed the individual to be the perpetrator of § 87(2)(b) stabbing and did not believe him to be armed. While PO Melendez and PO Temal were standing an arm's length away from one another speaking to each other, the individual approached the officers and reached his left hand forward, then placed it on PO Temal's shield. Both officers immediately pushed the individual away, with PO Melendez saying he told the individual, "Don't do that" while doing so and PO Temal denied recalling specifically how he touched the individual or what he said, only that he and PO Melendez both made contact with him. When asked if either officer used the word "fuck" during their interaction, both PO Temal and PO Melendez said, "Probably" but denied having an independent recollection of doing so. Neither officer provided a police function for doing so. The individual then began to walk into the living room, where § 87(2)(b) was being removed by EMS. PO Melendez then made the determination to remove the individual because it was an active crime scene and the house needed to be secured. PO Melendez denied being given this directive or discussing this decision with any other officer. PO Melendez removed the individual by placing both his hands, flat palmed, on the individual's back or backpack, and pushed him towards the front door, approximately 15 or 20 feet. PO Melendez denied recalling what the individual was saying during this time and PO Melendez denied recalling if he made any verbal commands while pushing the individual outside. PO Melendez denied recalling if the individual was saying anything or taking any specific actions during this time. PO Melendez denied recalling if he had made any verbal commands or asked the individual to leave the house prior to him forcibly removing him. PO Melendez denied recalling what PO Gaynor's involvement was and denied knowing what happened to the individual after he brought him outside. PO Temal denied seeing the removal or having any further contact with the individual (Board Review 08 and 09).

PO Gaynor was standing on the sidewalk out of § 87(2)(b) when he observed § 87(2)(b) walk out of the house, with the aid of EMS. Approximately thirty seconds or a minute later, PO Gaynor observed PO Melendez removing an unknown male civilian, wearing a yellow sweatshirt, from the house. The unknown individual appeared irate and was yelling, though PO Gaynor denied recalling what the individual was yelling. PO Melendez had one hand on the individual's right shoulder and one hand on the individual's right upper back. PO Gaynor approached PO Melendez and the individual then placed a hand on the left arm and left upper back of the individual. PO Melendez and PO Gaynor continued holding the individual this way and walked him down the stairs until they reached the sidewalk. PO Gaynor did not recall if PO Melendez made any verbal commands to the individual. Upon reaching the bottom of the stairs, the individual turned around and attempted to reenter the house by walking towards the front door. PO Gaynor pushed the individual away from the house by placing both his hands, open and flat, on the individual's chest and stomach, then pushed him backward. PO Gaynor said, "Goodbye" as he did so. PO Gaynor's purpose for doing this was because the individual was attempting to enter an active crime scene which the officers were securing and not allowing any civilians to enter. PO Gaynor denied pushing the individual more than once and denied recalling specifically what the individual was saying, but believed it was, "I'll fuck you up." PO Gaynor responded by saying, "Goodbye, get out of here." PO Gaynor denied recalling if or how PO Melendez responded. PO Gaynor believed the individual was intoxicated because he smelled like alcohol. PO Gaynor did not suspect the individual of any criminal activity and did not have any specific safety concerns regarding the individual. PO Gaynor made no verbal commands to the individual and denied telling him that he could not enter the house prior to making physical contact. PO Gaynor denied knowing if any civilians were still in the house after the individual's removal. After PO Gaynor pushed the individual, § 87(2)(b) approached and began speaking to the intoxicated individual and attempted to calm him down, then both entered the house next door. PO Gaynor denied having any further interaction with any civilians from the incident. PO Gaynor denied making physical contact with or speaking to § 87(2)(b). PO Gaynor proceeded to reenter his police vehicle and left the location shortly after this interaction (Board Review 10).

Body-worn Camera (BWC) videos for PO Melendez and PO Temal show them pushing the individual and each officer uses the word "fuck" multiple times when doing so. After PO Melendez forcibly removes the individual from the house, PO Gaynor pushes the individual when he attempts to reapproach the house. It is not captured on any officer's BWC video that PO Gaynor pushes § 87(2)(b). At 07:22 (Board Review 24, embedded 19:14:25) in PO Melendez's BWC, the individual reaches his left hand forward and touches PO Temal's shield. PO Melendez grabs the individual's hand and removes it from PO Temal's shield while saying, "Don't touch him, bro. Don't touch him alright? Don't fucking touch me. Alright? Don't fucking do it. I'll tell you right now. Don't fucking do that." The same interaction is captured on PO Temal's BWC, which shows PO Temal pushing the individual with his left hand away after he touches his shield and says, "Don't touch me bro. What the fuck is wrong with you? You looking for a problem? What's wrong with you? Wrong fucking guy, bro. Wrong fucking guy" (Board Review 23, embedded 19:14:25). The individual walks away from the two officers and reenters the living room. Approximately one minute later, PO Melendez removes the individual from the house by placing both his hands on the individual's upper back, grabbing his sweater, and pushing him towards the open exterior door of the house (Board Review 24, embedded 19:15:56). Once PO Melendez reaches the top of the exterior stairs, he tells PO Gaynor, "Get him the fuck out of here, bro" at which point, PO Gaynor grabs the individual by his left arm and walks him down the staircase. As PO Gaynor and the individual are walking down the stairs, PO Melendez yells toward the individual, "I told you to get the fuck out of here." The individual responds, "I will beat you up, you're a fucking pussy." PO Gaynor's BWC shows him respond by pushing the individual with both his hands on his chest, for approximately three feet, and saying, "Goodbye, goodbye" (Board Review 20, embedded 19:16:11). § 87(2)(b) approaches the individual and intervenes by attempting to guide him away from the location and away from the officers. At 9:09 in PO Gaynor's BWC video, the individual attempts to reenter § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) pulls him away. PO Gaynor appears to grab § 87(2)(b) left arm and tells her that it is a crime scene so they cannot enter (Board Review 20, embedded 19:17:15). It is unclear specifically how PO Gaynor touches § 87(2)(b) and this interaction is not captured on any additional officer's BWC videos. § 87(2)(b) then successfully removes the individual from the area and enters her parent's house next door with him. Neither § 87(2)(b) nor the individual is seen interacting with officers again during any BWC videos (Board Review 01).

According to NYPD Patrol Guide Procedure 200-02 the mission of the New York City Police Department, members of service are instructed to treat citizens with courtesy and professionalism. This procedure also states that one of the primary values of the NYPD is to respect the dignity of individuals and provide police services with civility and courtesy. Furthermore, according to Patrol Guide Procedure 203-10, members of service are explicitly prohibited from using discourteous language or remarks to address members of the public (Board Review 04 and 05).

PD v. Pichardo establishes that officers may use profanity when interacting with civilians when done in the context of a dynamic situation in which they are attempting to gain control. Officers may not use discourtesy language if it serves no legitimate law enforcement purpose (Board Review 06).

NYPD Patrol Guide Procedure 221-01 details the force guidelines for members of the police department, stating that the primary duty of all members of the service (MOS) is to protect human life, including the lives of individuals being placed in police custody. Force may be used when it is reasonable to ensure the safety of a member of the service or a third person, or otherwise protect life, or when it is reasonable to place a person in custody or to prevent escape from custody. In all circumstances, any application or use of force must be reasonable under the circumstances. If the force used is unreasonable under the circumstances, it will be deemed excessive and in violation of Department policy. When appropriate and consistent with personal safety, members of the service will use de-escalation techniques to safely gain voluntary compliance from a subject to reduce or eliminate the necessity to use force. In situations in which this is not safe and/or appropriate, MOS will use only the reasonable force necessary to gain control or custody of a subject. The use of deadly physical force against a person can only be used to protect MOS and/or the public from imminent serious physical injury or death (Board Review 07).

It is undisputed that PO Temal, PO Melendez, and PO Gaynor pushed the individual. § 87(2)(g)

Allegation (N) Abuse of Authority: Inspector John Buttacavoli searched § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that she believed her home had been searched by officers after § 87(2)(b) was removed and while she was next door at her parent's house. § 87(2)(b) did not witness the search but saw officers remain in her home after § 87(2)(b) was removed and believed the only reason they would remain inside was for a search (Board Review 02).

Insp. Buttacavoli and Lt. Delman provided consistent testimony that immediately upon entering § 87(2)(b) they were approached by Field Intelligence Officers who informed Insp. Buttacavoli that they had searched the house and no weapon was recovered. Det. Krystopher Valentin told Insp. Buttacavoli that he had observed a knife upstairs which could have possibly been used for the assault. Lt. Delman denied that Det. Valentin ever told the officers why he believed the knife had been used for the assault. Lt. Delman denied recalling specifically how Det. Valentin stated this information and denied recalling if Insp. Buttacavoli had any further conversation with Det. Valentin about the knife. Insp. Buttacavoli believed PO Tony Cuoco might have informed him that PO Cuoco had searched the residence before Insp. Buttacavoli arrived. Insp. Buttacavoli directed Lt. Delman to accompany him upstairs to see the knife. Insp. Buttacavoli did not provide a reason to go upstairs beyond the knife being present and Lt. Delman denied that Insp. Buttacavoli told him why he wanted to see the knife. Insp. Buttacavoli explained his sole purpose for entering the second floor of the house was to see the knife that PO Cuoco and Det. Valentin had mentioned, and to see if it could have been the weapon used in the attack. Lt. Delman proceeded to follow Insp. Buttacavoli upstairs and entered a bedroom. Lt. Delman observed the knife, though he could not recall where in the bedroom he saw the knife and denied recalling any specific details about the knife, such as its shape, size, color, and whether there was blood on it. Lt. Delman did not make any determination or have any reason to believe the knife was used in the assault. Lt. Delman denied being able to provide a reason for entering the second floor of the house beyond Insp. Buttacavoli directs him because of the knife. Insp. Buttacavoli denied recalling if the knife observed was the one used in the assault and denied recalling if any arrests were made regarding the incident. Insp. Buttacavoli did not learn what happened with § 87(2)(b) after the incident date (Board Review 11 and 12).

Body-worn Camera (BWC) videos from Insp. Buttacavoli (Board Review 22) and Lt. Delman (Board Review 17) show them having a conversation with PO Cuoco and Det. Valentin, then Insp. Buttacavoli and Lt. Delman search the second floor of the house, observe a knife on the dresser of a bedroom, determine it is not the weapon used in the attack, and return to the first floor. At 13:10 in Lt. Claxton's BWC, PO Cuoco tells Insp. Buttacavoli that there is a knife upstairs, Lt. Claxton asks if there is blood on it, and PO Cuoco says there is not. Lt. Claxton informs Insp. Buttacavoli that there is a knife upstairs without any blood and there are no blood trails, then suggests the assault took place in a back room on the first floor (Board Review 19, embedded 19:20:02). At 15:44, Lt. Delman asks the intelligence officers, "What's upstairs?" and Det. Valentin responds that there is a knife and weed upstairs. Insp. Buttacavoli clarifies if there is anyone else upstairs and Det. Valentin says it has been cleared. Lt. Delman tells Insp. Buttacavoli, "Let's go upstairs" and Insp. Buttacavoli leads Lt. Delman upstairs (Board Review 19, embedded 19:22:55). In Lt. Delman's BWC, he and Insp. Buttacavoli enters the second floor of the house, then enters multiple bedrooms and closets. Lt. Delman and Insp. Buttacavoli sees a kitchen knife, without blood, on a dresser in a bedroom. Both officers agree it was not likely the knife was used in the assault and that the attack happened downstairs. The officers continue entering other closets and rooms after making this determination (Board Review 21, embedded 19:23:42) (Board Review 01).

People v. Febus, 157 A.D.2d 380 details the parameters of a Protective Sweep, outlining that when police officers have lawfully entered a premise to effect an arrest, they are entitled to make a quick and limited pass through the premises to check for third persons that may destroy evidence or pose a threat to the officers. It is narrowly confined to a cursory visual inspection of those places in which a person might be hiding (Board Review 13).

People v. Wheeler, 2 N.Y.3d 370, 371 determines whether police interference is reasonable by requiring the weighing of the government's interest against an individual's right to privacy and personal security. The court undertakes a dual inquiry: whether the officer's action was justified at its inception, and whether it was reasonably related in scope to the circumstances that justified the interference in the first place. The propriety of an officer's interference with the privacy and security of an individual must be balanced against the relevant circumstances (Board Review 14).

The responsibility for the search is pleaded against Insp. Buttacavoli since he admitted to taking the initiative and was the ranking officer involved. It is undisputed from the BWC video and officer testimony that Insp. Buttacavoli and Lt. Delman knew that Field Intelligence Officers conducted a protective sweep before their arrival and there was no one upstairs. § 87(2)(g)

Therefore, it is recommended that Allegation N be Substantiated.
