Defendants, including, VALENZUELA ignored all of Plaintiff's pleas to loosen the handcuffs, and Defendants sadistically and intentionally squeezed the handcuffs with Plaintiff's wrists within in order to inflict wanton and unnecessary pain to Plaintiff. This resulted in Plaintiff's wrists sustaining contusions, swelling, and loss of feeling.
29. Defendants, including VALENZUELA illegally interrogated Plaintiff in violation of his rights pursuant to Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436 (1966)
30. Defendants, including VALENZUELA also assaulted Plaintiff by violently slamming him into a wall, and upon information and belief, striking him throughout his entire body.

32. Said searches did not yield contraband.
33. Defendants, including VALENZUELA, then accused Plaintiff of criminal offenses and forwarded the criminal complaint to the Bronx County District attorneys office, in which they knowingly affirmed the truth of fabricated allegations against Plaintiff, namely that he violated an order of protection, strangled someone and committed other related crimes.
34. Plaintiff The prosecution was terminated in favor of Plaintiff when all criminal charges were unconditionally dismissed and sealed on the merits on or about October 8, 2020 and October 14, 2021 and October 7, 2021 pursuant to sections 160.50 or 160.60 of the New York Criminal Procedure Law.

35. Defendants, VALENZUELA, then transported Plaintiff to central bookings, where he was criminally processed again.
36. Plaintiff was then moved to Riker's Island where he remained unlawfully detained for a period of seven (7) months.
37. Defendants, VALENZUELA, arresting officers, signed the criminal court complaint, swearing and attesting the observations of defendants, despite said defendants being fully aware that said observations were complete fabrications, that Plaintiff was innocent of the crimes alleged within the complaint, and there existed no probable cause to arrest him.
38. Defendants, including VALENZUELA, was supervising sergeant assigned to Plaintiff's arrest and directed, approved or authorized Plaintiff's arrest, despite being fully aware that Plaintiff had not committed any crimes of violations of the law and that there was no probable cause to arrest him.
39. As a result of defendants' knowingly and intentionally providing false statements and allegations, Plaintiff was falsely charged under criminal docket number CR-019386.
40. Defendants, including, VALENZUELA signed a supporting deposition (or corroborating affidavit) falsely swearing and alleging that Plaintiff commit burglary, strangulation and criminal contempt and other related charges.
41. Upon information and belief, Defendants, including, VALENZUELA signed a supporting deposition (or corroborating affidavit) falsely swearing and alleging that he observed Plaintiff commit aforesaid crimes.

42. Defendants intentionally provided said false information to the Kings County District Attorney's Office, so that a criminal prosecution would be initiated against Plaintiff.
43. At no point did Defendants, including, VALENZUELA, ever observe Plaintiff commit any crime or offense.
44. Upon information and belief, at no point did Defendants, including, VALENZUELA ever recover evidence which created an indicium of probable cause, reasonable suspicion that Plaintiff commit any crime of which he was charged therein.
45. Upon information and belief, at no point were the defendants, VALENZUELA ever told by any witnesses that Plaintiff committed any crime or violation of the law.
46. The defendants, including VALENZUELA did not have probable cause or reasonable suspicion to arrest, detain or stop Plaintiff.
47. Defendants, including VALENZUELA never possessed probable cause to believe a prosecution would succeed against Plaintiff, or that Plaintiff was guilty of any crime, as they each were made aware that Plaintiff never commit any crime of which he was falsely charged with.
48. While Plaintiff was unlawfully detained, Defendants, including VALENZUELA ,conveyed the aforementioned false, misleading, and incomplete information to prosecutors in order to have Plaintiff maliciously prosecuted.
49. Defendants, including VALENZUELA, suppressed evidence and engaged in conduct undertaken in bad faith, namely the fabrications of Plaintiff's illicit actions.

50. Defendants, including VALENZUELA, were aware Plaintiff was on parole at the time of his unlawful arrest and were also aware that the conditions of his parole would be violated if he was arrested for any reason.
51. Defendants, including VALENZUELA therefore, proceeded to conspire to fabricate the false account that Plaintiff commit Criminal Contempt Strangulation and other related crimes, for the purpose of violating his parole conditions and incarcerating him.
52. Due solely to defendants, VALENZUELA, nefarious and deplorable actions, Plaintiff was deemed to have violated the conditions of his parole and was wrongfully deprived of his liberty for an additional period of approximately seven (7) months.
53. During all of the events described, the Defendants, including VALENZUELA maliciously and with intent to injure Plaintiff.
54. At all times relevant hereto, Defendants, including VALENZUELA were involved in the decision to arrest Plaintiff without probable cause or failed to intervene when they observed others arresting Plaintiff without probable cause.
55. At all times relevant hereto, Defendants, including VALENZUELA engaged in fraud, perjury, the suppression of evidence and other actions conducted in bad faith, or failed to intervene when defendants observed others doing so, all in furtherance of Plaintiff's criminal prosecution.
56. Defendant City has engaged in a policy, custom, or pattern and practice of stopping vehicles occupied by members of protected classes, especially African- Americans, without probable cause or reasonable suspicion to do so and then using excessive force in the process of unlawfully arresting said individuals.

57. Defendant City has also engaged in a policy, custom, or pattern and practice of concealing their unlawful arrests by fabricating false accounts that African- American males were observed committing criminal acts, when no such acts were ever committed.
58. Plaintiff asserts that the aforementioned unlawful acts committed by defendants are representative of a pervasive policy, custom or pattern and practice within the City of New York and the NYPD, namely the practice of falsely arresting African- American males on parole, so that they will be reincarcerated.
59. Plaintiff asserts that defendants, including VALENZUELA falsely arrested, assaulted, battered and maliciously prosecuted him, due solely to their racial discriminatory prejudices against African- Americans, their desire to meet an arrest quota and to benefit from increased overtime compensation.
60. Plaintiff further asserts that Defendants, including, VALENZUELA acted in such a sadistic and reprehensible manner, due to their assumption that defendants' version of events would undoubtedly and unduly be credited over Plaintiff's, solely because Plaintiff is a young black male and on parole.
61. Defendants, including VALENZUELA arrested, assaulted, battered and maliciously prosecuted Plaintiff, not because of any probable cause to believe Plaintiff had committed any crimes, violations of the law or caused defendants to fear for their safety, but because Plaintiff is a young, African- American male.
62. Defendants, including VALENZUELA discriminated against Plaintiff by arresting, assaulting, battering, and maliciously prosecuted Plaintiff, solely due to defendants' perception or consideration of Plaintiff's race, ethnicity, national origin, immigration status, religion, gender or age.

63. Defendants, including VALENZUELA perpetrated multiple overt acts in furtherance of their obviously discriminatory inclinations, namely the unlawful stop, searches, assaults, batteries, seizure, arrest, and malicious prosecution against Plaintiff.
64. Defendants, including, VALENZUELA possessed no valid reason to stop the subject vehicle or forcibly remove Plaintiff from said vehicle, which gives rise to the strong inference that the unlawful acts committed by Defendants, including VALENZUELA against Plaintiff, were discriminatorily motivated and enacted upon.
65. Defendants, including, VALENZUELA subjected plaintiff to disparate treatment compared to other individuals similarly situated, because defendants failed to maliciously prosecute other individuals who were not members of a protected class, especially when Defendants are in possession of myriad exculpatory evidence.
66. As a direct and proximate result of the acts of defendants, including VALENZUELA Plaintiff suffered the following injuries and damages: violations of his rights pursuant to the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, violations of New York State law, physical injury, physical pain and suffering, emotional trauma and suffering, including fear, embarrassment, humiliation, emotional distress, frustration, extreme inconvenience, anxiety, loss of liberty and harm to reputation.
67. Defendants, including VALENZUELA signed a criminal complaint against Plaintiff, in which he knowingly affirmed the truth of the fabricated allegations against Plaintiff, namely that Plaintiff commit, criminal contempt, strangulation, harassment and other related crimes.

68. Plaintiff was then falsely charged with criminal acts or conduct.
69. Plaintiff's charges were dismissed on or about October 14, 2020 and October 7, 2021 and sealed pursuant to CPL 160.50 which constituted a termination favorable to the accused.
70. Defendants, including VALENZUELA arrested and caused a criminal prosecution to be initiated against Plaintiff, because of their desires to use Plaintiff's arrest and criminal prosecution to incur additional overtime compensation, benefits and career favor from the superior officers, to avoid adverse consequences associated with failing to meet NYPD departmental arrest quotas, and also to conceal their egregious violations of proper police procedures and gross misconduct, including their fabrications of non-existent observations, evidence and information.
71. Defendants, including VALENZUELA arrested, applied excessive force and initiated a malicious prosecution against Plaintiff in retaliation for Plaintiff's exertion of his constitutional right to freely express his opinion and inquiries, namely Plaintiff's displeasure with the manner in which Defendants addressed him and his request for an explanation as to why Defendants acted so discourteously toward Plaintiff.
72. As a result, Plaintiff developed a severe fear of police officers, which prevented him from venturing from his house for a period of time and has effectively permanently chilled his desire and ability to communicate with police officers.
73. Defendants, including VALENZUELA engaged in a conspiracy to falsely arrest and maliciously prosecute Plaintiff by personally conferring with each other, regarding the fabrication of the aforementioned non-existent evidence and observations, as well the manner and means by which said fabrications would be forwarded to the Kings County District Attorney's Office.

74. Plaintiff asserts that the Defendants, including VALENZUELA who violated Plaintiff's civil rights, are part of a larger pattern and practice of similar misconduct, which is so widespread, pervasive and consistent throughout the NYPD and the City of New York that the commission such constitutionally violative behavior has become tantamount to an official policy or custom within the NYPD and City of New York or, at the very least, conclusive evidence that the City and the NYPD have either tacitly approved of such egregious wrongdoings or that they have become deliberately indifferent to the civil rights of those who may come into contact with their police officers.

75. The individually named Defendants herein, as well as other officers serving in the employ of the NYPD and City of New York, have blatantly, shamelessly, consistently and repeatedly engaged in conduct violative of the civil rights guaranteed and protected by Constitution of the United States, in addition to the laws and Constitution of the State of New York, all without incurring any ramifications for such misconduct and, ostensibly, with the full and complete blessing of the NYPD, the City of New York and their respective policymakers and supervisors.

76. The New York Times, as well as numerous other reputable journalistic enterprises, have reported on the widespread corruption within the NYPD and City of New York, particularly the incredibly disconcerting proclivity of many NYPD officers to lie about subject matters that are materially relevant to criminal prosecutions, including the complete fabrication of arrest evidence and witnesses. Also detailed, is the NYPD's obstinate refusal to effectuate corrective or preventive measures to combat the inevitable recurrence of such misdeeds, and perhaps most troubling, the NYPD's alarming tendency to, instead, reward and promote these officers, including those who were inculpated via incontrovertible evidence, such as video evidence.

77. The constitutionally repugnant behavior that persists within the ranks of the NYPD results from the NYPD's own policies, rules and procedures, namely the NYPD's incredibly flawed and illegal use of arrest quotas. Despite its illegality, such policies remain systemin throughout the NYPD and its individual commands. The NYPD, however, was not content in compelling its officers to effect as many arrests as possible, regardless of the presence of any legal right to do, it promulgated various subsets of quotas, which are predicated on race, color or ethnicity. Additionally, the NYPD, its supervisors or policymakers would assign varying point values to arrests, which were, again, impermissibly based upon the arrestee's race, color or ethnicity. Unsurprisingly, officers would be better rewarded for minority arrests or summonses. This egregious conduct has reported by numerous respected media outlets and publications and has even formed the basis for federal lawsuits against the City and the NYPD, which were commenced by its own employee officers.

78. On June 17, 2020, the New York Daily News published an article, by Graham Rayman, entitled "Brooklyn Cop Claims he was Punished for not Meeting Arrest Quotas, Refusing to Take Responsibility for Controversial Arrest in which he Wasn't Involved," describing allegations from an NYPD Police Officer, Terrence Dickerson, that he was retaliated against by the NYPD for refusing to adhere to mandatory racially based arrest quotas and for his refusal to accept responsibility for a controversial and publicized arrest via the excessive force, despite the fact that he was not even at the scene.

79. Another article with a title that speaks for itself, also published by the New York Daily News, on December 5, 2019, and written by Graham Rayman, is entitled “Ex-Cop Details NYPD ‘Collar Quotas’—Arrest Black and Hispanic Men, ‘No Cuffs on Soft Targets’ of Jews, Asians, Whites: Court Docs.”
80. The New York Times, on December 6, 2019, published an article by Joseph Goldstein and Ashley Southall, entitled “I Got Tired of Hunting Black and Hispanic People,” which revealed a disturbing account from a different NYPD Police Officer, Anthony Diaz, describing a police force that measures the quality of police work by the quantity of minority arrests.
81. On March 18, 2018, The New York Times published an explosive article, entitled “Promotions, Not Punishments for Officers Accused of Lying,” written by Joseph Goldstein. Mr. Goldstein shines a light on the multitude of flaws within the CCRB and the NYPD, highlighting the fact that the substantiation of a claim against an officer will invariably rely on the presence of incontrovertible proof against the officer. Due to the rarity availability of this type of evidence, an alarmingly small percentage of officer misconduct claims are substantiated. The CCRB is further handicapped by a terribly designed system that requires evidence of a virtually indisputable nature to substantiate any claim against an officer. The article also details the NYPD’s persistent reluctance to investigate or discipline officers who lie and even posits that this reluctance is a significant cause of the lying pandemic within the NYPD. The article references various officers and detectives who were the subject of credible accusations relating to the officers' intentionally false statements, with some allegations coming from federal and state judges.

82. On September 12, 2019, The New York Times published another article by Joseph Goldstein, entitled "Officers Said They Smelled Pot. The Judge Called Them Liars." Unsurprisingly, this article dealt with the unusually high frequency of officers using the odor of marijuana to excuse a search that conspicuously does not result in the recovery of any marijuana. It should not require an article in The New York Times to call attention to such patently disingenuous tactics, but has become necessary for a variety of reasons, including the NYPD's failure to correct such behavior, the willingness of prosecutors and judges to credit the lying officers and the increasing rate of occurrence.
83. On April 24, 2019, The New York Times published an article, entitled "Detective's Lies Sent Three People to Prison, Prosecutors Charge," by Sean Piccolo, detailing the lies of NYPD Second Grade Detective Joseph Franco and how those lies resulted in the imprisonment of at least three innocent people. The article described how Det. Franco lied about observing drug transactions on at least three separate occasions, lies that were only uncovered through contradictory video evidence. Det. Franco's lies resulted in the innocent individuals each being sentenced to prison terms in excess of one-year.
84. Other articles include: (i) "Testilying' by Police: A Stubborn Problem.," by Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times, March 18, 2018; (ii) "New York Detective Charged with Faking Lineup Results," by Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times, February 17, 2018; (iii) "He Excelled as a Detective, Until Prosecutors Stopped Believing Him," by Joseph Goldstein, The New York Times, October 17, 2017; (iv) “Review Board Notes Rise in New York Police Officers’ False Statement,” by J. David Goodman, The New York Times, May 14, 2015; (v) “In Brooklyn Gun Cases, Suspicion Turns to the Police,” by Stephanie Clifford, The New York Times, December 11, 2014; (vi) “Detective is Found Guilty of Planting Drugs,” by Tim Stelloh, The New York Times, November 1, 2011; and (vii) “The Drugs? They Came from the Police,” by Jim Dwyer, The New York Times, October 13, 2011.

85. The NYPD has a longstanding and ignominious record of failing to discipline its officers, or even entertaining allegations of wrongdoing against them. On June 26, 2019, The New York Times published an article, entitled “2,495 Reports of Police Bias. Not One Was Deemed Valid by the N.Y.P.D.” This article reported that within the last five (5) years, almost 2,500 separate individuals have filed formal complaints with the NYPD alleging that an officer acted with bias toward them, with not a single one being substantiated by the NYPD. Such a finding is plainly incredible and obviously the result of deliberately poor or nonexistent investigatory protocols. The report further impugned the NYPD’s commitment to combat the prejudices and the biases exhibited by many of its officers.

86. Upon information and belief, the NYPD, the City of New York, and their respective policymakers, officials or supervisors have imposed, tacitly approved or acquiesced to policies, customs, or patterns and practices within the NYPD that resulted in Plaintiff’s arrest without probable cause.

87. Upon information and belief, the NYPD, the City of New York, and their respective policymakers or supervisors have failed to provide adequate training regarding the identification of probable cause, reasonable suspicion or the appropriate amount of force to be used.

88. Defendants' actions, pursuant to Plaintiff's underlying arrest, which occurred without even the semblance of probable cause, were so blatantly violative of Plaintiff's civil rights that the tacit approval of identical or similar acts by the policymakers or supervisors of the NYPD and the City of New York, as well as their deliberate indifference towards the rights of any individuals who may come into contact with Defendants, should be inferred, because such flagrant deprivations of constitutionally protected rights could not and would not occur without the tacit approval or deliberate indifference regarding the commission of such violations by the policymakers or supervisors of the NYPD and City of New York.
89. Upon information and belief, further details and facts, relating to the unlawful policies, customs or patterns and practices of the NYPD, City of New York and their respective policymakers, supervisors, police officers or employees, will become known after the completion of discovery, as such information is presently within the exclusive possession of Defendants, the NYPD and City of New York.
90. Upon information and belief, the personnel files, records and disciplinary histories of the officer Defendants will reveal a history of Constitutional violations indicative of Defendant City's knowledge that the individual officer Defendants were unfit for employment as NYPD officers, or for employment in general, and that the probability of the individually named Defendants committing similar violations in the future was extremely high.

91. Upon information and belief, said personnel files, records and disciplinary histories will conclusively show that the City and the NYPD were fully aware of Defendants' past constitutional violations, the unacceptably high probability for the recurrence of similar transgressions, the unreasonably dangerous situations that were likely to result from their hiring or retention, as well as their unsuitability for employment as law enforcement officers, or for employment in general, and that the NYPD and City of New York failed to engage in any preventive or corrective action intended to diminish the likelihood of recurrence for such violations, which is tantamount to the City's tacit approval of such misconduct or the City's deliberate indifference towards the civil rights of those who may interact with its employees, including Defendants, CITY and JOHN OR JANE DOE 1-10 Upon information and belief, the NYPD and City of New York and have failed, or outright refused, to correct the individually named Defendants' predilections to engage in unconstitutional behavior or attempt to prevent the recurrence of such misconduct.
92. The aforementioned acts of Defendants, including VALENZUELA directly or proximately resulted in the deprivation or violation of Plaintiff's civil rights, as guaranteed and protected by the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution, as well as the laws and Constitution of the State of New York.
93. As a direct or proximate result of said acts, Plaintiff was caused to suffer the loss of his liberty, irreparable reputational harm, loss of earnings and potential earnings, physical injury, as well as severe and permanent emotional distress, including fear, embarrassment, humiliation, traumatization, frustration, extreme inconvenience, and anxiety.
