POLICE COMMISSIONER'S PENALTY DEPARTURE

Re: CCRB Case No. 202104497 regarding Police Officer Daniel Trentowski, Tax No. 956305 (DADS No. 2022-27348)

Dear Mr. Darche:

The Police Commissioner has reviewed the facts and circumstances in this matter and determined that Police Officer Trentowski's actions do not warrant a disciplinary action. In this matter, Police Officer Trentowski, together with three (3) other officers similarly assigned to the Emergency Services Unit, responded to a location where a suspect was barricaded inside of his bedroom. Also present on the scene was a patrol supervisor from the precinct concerned as well as a duty captain from the Patrol Borough concerned. Under their supervision, one or more members of the Emergency Services Unit on the scene drilled a hole through the barricaded suspect's bedroom door. This was done in order to visually monitor the barricaded suspect.

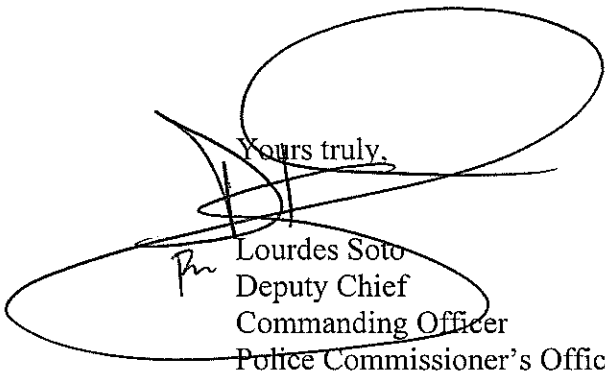

Based on the Civilian Complaint Review Board's ("CCRB") own investigation into the matter, it cannot be determined with any degree of certainty that Police Officer Trentowski was the very officer who drilled a hole in the barricaded suspect's bedroom door. CCRB's investigators did not interview Police Officer Trentowski. Moreover, none of the interviewed officers was questioned about exactly which officer drilled the hole in the bedroom door.

It must also be noted that drilling a hole in a bedroom door of a barricaded suspect who had earlier attempted to sexually assault a victim is not an improper entry into said suspect's bedroom. Rather, the drilling of the hole is a necessary and valid police tactic that ensures that responding officers from the Emergency Services Unit are able to visually monitor a barricaded suspect while engaging in a de-escalation dialogue aimed at peaceful and voluntary surrender. Visual monitoring of a suspect is crucial to ensuring the safety of everyone present at the scene.

Therefore, based on the foregoing, Police Officer Trentowski will receive no disciplinary action for the alleged violation of Administrative Guide Procedure 304-06 (1) (Prohibited Conduct/Property Damage).

Yours truly,
