STATEMENT OF FACTS

19. On November 18, 2021, at approximately 6:00 a.m., Plaintiff was lawfully present inside of 57 N. Elliott Walk, County of Kings, State of New York, when the defendant Police Officers arrested Plaintiff without legal justification.

20. Defendant NYPD officers unlawfully and without probable cause, kicked down Plaintiff's door and entered her family's home.

21. After forcibly gaining entry, dozens of Defendant NYPD Officers poured into Plaintiff's home.

22. At the time, Plaintiff was asleep in her bed with her then 2-year-old child and her 22-year-old daughter was also at home.

23. Plaintiff and her young child were jolted awake by the clamorous mob that had entered without warning.

24. Plaintiff ran to the door and was greeted by Defendant NYPD Officers in full-military gear with their pistols and rifles drawn and pointing directly at her.

25. Plaintiff pleaded with Defendant NYPD Officers not to shoot because she was pregnant, and her children were in the home.

26. Defendant NYPD Officers announced they were looking for Plaintiff's youngest daughter's father, Jamell Mccree.

27. Defendant NYPD Officers questioned Plaintiff for information on Jamell Mccree and she was cooperative and answered their questions.

28. Plaintiff informed Defendant NYPD Officers he was not at her home.

29. Defendant NYPD Officers then arrested Plaintiff without probable cause, detaining her and her children while they ransacked her home.

30. Plaintiff informed the officers that she was pregnant.

31. After hours of illegally searching Plaintiff's home, Defendant NYPD Officers grabbed Plaintiff, pinned her arms behind her back, and shackled her wrists with tight, metal handcuffs, in full view of her terrified and screaming children.

32. Plaintiff presented no risk of escape or danger to members of service or other individuals, was not the subject of any allegation of violence, was compliant and respectful in her demeanor.

33. Even though Plaintiff was pregnant, Defendant NYPD Officers still cuffed her hands behind her back, and failed to take the necessary steps outlined in the Patrol Guide when dealing with pregnant prisoners, including notifying a supervisor or otherwise determining appropriate and less restrictive methods of restraint.

34. Plaintiff had a high-risk pregnancy and was informed by medical professionals not to be with her hands too far up, yet her hands were lifted up high along her back by the method by which defendant officers had handcuffed her.

35. Her hand position and extreme discomfort, particularly given that it was against medical advice, caused Plaintiff significant emotional distress.

36. The handcuffs were so tight on Plaintiff's wrists that Plaintiff experienced lacerations and bruising to her wrists.

37. After several hours, NYPD Officers took Plaintiff out of her home and to the 88th NYPD Police Precinct.

38. At the Precinct Defendant NYPD Officers illegally searched, interrogated, photographed, and fingerprinted Plaintiff without probable cause.

39. While at the Precinct, Plaintiff was visibly ill and began vomiting, yet defendant officers provided her with no medical treatment.

40. Defendant NYPD Officers then submitted false information to the Kings County District Attorney's Office resulting in Plaintiff's unlawful prosecution.

41. Plaintiff remained at the 88th Precinct for approximately 12 hours before being transported to Brooklyn Central Booking.

42. Plaintiff was eventually brought before a judge and charged with criminal possession of a weapon and various other charges based on the false and/or misleading affidavits and information supplied by defendant officers.

43. Plaintiff was released on her own recognizance at arraignment.

44. On December 17, 2021, the Grand Jury of Kings County voted to dismiss all charges against Plaintiff.

45. On February 2, 2022, all charges against Plaintiff were dismissed and sealed.

46. Plaintiff had to go back to court three times, interfering with her ability to work and requiring her to pay a car fare each time out of pocket.

47. Plaintiff had to receive additional medical treatment from her obstetrician and had complications with her pregnancy due the excessive force, failure to properly restrain, and false arrest in this case.

48. Plaintiff's obstetrician found that, immediately after her release, her blood pressure was elevated, and she had hyperemesis.

49. Plaintiff's ongoing blood pressure issues, stemming from the stress and anxiety of her false arrest and false prosecution, led to complications in the delivery of her child, including the use of a caesarian delivery.

50. At no time relevant herein did Plaintiff commit a crime or violate the law in any way, nor did the police officers have an objective reason to accuse Plaintiff of committing a crime or violating the law in any way.

51. Nevertheless, Plaintiff was unlawfully arrested and handcuffed by defendant officers without legal justification or probable cause, unlawfully fingerprinted, photographed and searched, and unlawfully detained.

52. Some of the police officer defendants observed the violation of Plaintiff's rights under the Constitution of the United States and New York State Law and did nothing to prevent their fellow officers from unjustifiably using excessive force and failing to properly restrain Plaintiff.

53. The unlawful arrest and use of excessive force by the individually named defendants caused Plaintiff to sustain physical, psychological, and emotional trauma.
